NEW POLICY IS OUTLINED TO CONGRESS

Roosevelt Proposes Contracts Not to Exceed 3 Years Be Awarded Soon

OLD CONCERNS BARRED

Hearings Will Be Held by Committee if Interested Persons So Desire

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The draft of a new administration air mail policy based on "honest payment for honest service" was before congress today as senate investigators hinted further evidence of abuses growing from contract awards.

The policy, outlined by President Roosevelt in terse sentences, called for new mail contracts with commercial companies as soon as possible but only after sweeping legislative reforms.

Mr. Roosevelt's views, addressed to the chairman of the senate and house postoffice committees and to Senator Hugo Black, head of the special air mail investigating group, were studied along with testimony of Col. Paul H. Henderson, vice president of the United Aircraft and Transport company, a new witness in the inquiry.

Henderson revealed he paid Lehr Fess, son of Sen. Simeon D. Fess, Rep., Ohio, several thousand dollars to "expedite" passage of the McNary-Waters air mail bill in the senate.

In presenting his suggestions Mr. Roosevelt observed:

"We must avoid the evils of the past, and at the same time encourage the sound development of the aviation industry."

He proposed:

Contracts for not more than three years, with fair and open bidding.

Six months grace period to allow successful bidder to qualify.

Supervision by interstate commerce commission.

No award of contracts to companies with affiliates connected with competitive routes or in airplane manufacturing industry.

No contracts with companies, old or new, whose officers were party to obtaining contracts now cancelled.

The chief executive submitted recommendations to safeguard free competitive bidding against combinations, agreements or understandings, adding that "such

LARGE CHUNK OF AMBERGRIS FOUND

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., March 8.—(UP)—Marin county's ambergris stampede was shunted in a new direction today with the finding of 500 pounds of a substance believed to be the rare perfume ingredient worth $25 an ounce at Point Reyes, 25 miles northwest of here.

Treasure seekers in the Bolinas Bay area immediately pulled up stakes and headed north, believing the prospects better in the Point Reyes sector than at Bolinas where hundreds of seekers have combed the last inch of the beach for crumbs of the evil-smelling substance which originates in sick whales.

NEW YORK, March 8.—(UP)—The younger generation in Gotham likes a little spice with its recreation.

Two special officers found four boys bounding back and forth over the high voltage third rail of an elevated structure.

"We're playing skip the third rail," said one of the boys.

"And how do you play that?"

"Well if you touch the third rail you lose."

Touching the third rail also means instant death.

SIGVARD WEDS FILM ACTRESS ERIKA PATZEK

Swedish Prince Renounces Rights to Throne When He Takes Bride

LONDON, March 8.—(UP)—Prince Sigvard of Sweden, grandson of King Gustav V, today married Erika Patzek, beautiful blonde German motion picture actress, at Caxton Hall register office near Westminster Abbey. In so doing he made great sacrifices on the altar of love.

As the brief ceremony was conducted, the Swedish Riksmarskalk—lord high chamberlain—was on his way to Stockholm to issue decrees depriving the prince of his royal status for marrying a commoner. He will be deprived of the right of succession to the throne. He is third in line as the second son of Crown Prince Gustav Adolf.

The ceremony was most simple—dramatic in contrast to the solemn ceremonials to which royal princes such as Sigvard are destined if they obey the laws of their countries restricting their choice of wives to officially approved princesses.

There was no best man and no reception. The bride's brother, George Patzek, son of a wealthy industrialist, and Sigvard's lawyer, George Gordon, were the only official witnesses.

Sigvard was dressed, as usual, in a gray suit, with blue overcoat. Miss Patzek wore a blue tailored suit with a spray of white flowers. Both looked tense as if conscious of what Sigvard was sacrificing by defying his family and his country's laws.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS TO REFUND NOTES

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The federal government sought today to refund $460,000,000 of maturing 3-4 per cent short term certificates of indebtedness with longer term 4 year 3 per cent notes as a part of Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau's policy of reducing the heavy floating government debt.

Maturing on March 15 are $460,000,000 of 3-4 per cent 9-month certificates. These securities will be accepted for subscription to the new securities.

The relatively high interest rate on the refunding issue is accounted for by their longer maturity and the issue was considered in some quarters as a "test" of the ability of the government to borrow large additional sums at relatively long maturities.

ARMY OFFICER DIES IN FALL FROM PONY

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 8.—(UP)—Col. Gordon Johnston, 59, chief of staff of the second division, died here today from injuries received when he fell from a horse during a polo game yesterday.

Colonel Johnston was orderly to Theodore Roosevelt when the former president was in command of the famous "Rough Riders" during the Spanish-American war.

During the fast scrimmage in the polo game, Colonel Johnston's horse fell. The officer was pinned to the ground under the animal. He suffered concussion of the brain.

Colonel Johnston held the distinguished service cross. He was a graduate of Princeton university in the class of 1896.

World Court Issue Again Brought Up

Proponents to Be Heard by Senate Committee in Capital March 23

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The controversial world court issue was revived today with announcement that the senate foreign relations committee would hold brief hearings on the question.

Chairman Key Pittman, Dem., Nev., said a two-hour hearing would be given proponents of American adherence on March 23, with opponents to be heard at a similar meeting later.

The hearings will be restricted to arguments on the Root protocol formula for American participation.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of war, has been requesting hearings for the submission of brief hearings on the submission of proposed changes in the Root formula.

H. Ralph Burton, vice president of the American Coalition of Patriotic, Civil and Fraternal societies, plans to oppose American adherence.

The house military affairs committee investigation into war department purchases turned today to testimony of a plane manufacturer, Major Alexander Severski. A secret hearing was planned. It was indicated that Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the air corps, would be recalled later.

The house ways and means committee prepared to hear Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Secretary Henry A. Wallace as the first witnesses as brief hearings on the administration's reciprocal tariff bill. The measure is scheduled to be ready for house action next week. Party lines will probably be smashed in the house fight for passage of the bill.

FATHER MAY SPRING TRAP IN HANGINGS

JACKSON, Miss., March 8.—(UP)—The Mississippi house today took up a bill that would give the father of the white girl victim of assault by three Negroes the right to spring the trap when the attackers are hanged March 16.

The bill passed the senate yesterday, over the protests of Senator Whittington who declared that "we ought not to go on record as authorizing a person of this state to hang another person for personal reasons."

Mississippi law now permits a sheriff to delegate any citizen of his county to carry out the duty of hangman. The Negroes are to be hanged in De Soto county and the father lives in another county. The bill authorizes the sheriff to appoint any citizen of Mississippi. Senator Richardson, its author, pledged himself to ask its repeal the day after the executions.

BERGDOLL ENTERS PLEA FOR PARDON

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The justice department today studied a plea from Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger, for a pardon so that he may return to this country to see his 73-year-old mother.

Bergdoll wrote President Roosevelt from Weinsburg, Germany. It was his first plea for clemency, although his mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, petitioned the president for a pardon several months ago.

ENACTMENT OF RECIPROCAL TARIFF BILL AS RECOVERY STIMULUS URGED BY HULL

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, urging enactment of the administration reciprocal tariff bill, warned today that economic recovery is essential or the United States can "easily be the victim of reaction from headlong movements" toward dictatorship and despotism abroad.

Appearing before the house ways and means committee at the initial hearing on the bill, Hull noted there were 30,000,000 jobless throughout the world and urged non-partisan consideration and quick enactment of the bill as a vital link in the recovery program.

He predicted the supreme court would hold valid the bill which gives the President tariff and treaty powers now held by congress.

"I'm not so sure whether any of us appreciate the fundamental economic conditions which face the world and in their reaction affect us," Hull said.

"My opinion is that while the American people have been veered through tradition to the ideals of representative government, that it is true at the same time we are seeing despotism and dictatorship spring up abroad overnight."

FIRST LADY TO RETURN TODAY TO PORTO RICO TO ROOSEVELT

Makes Triumphant Flying Tour of Virgin Islands for 24 Hours

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, March 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt continued today a triumphant flying tour of the American West Indies.

She prepared to fly 100 miles to San Juan, Porto Rico, starting at 3 p. m. for a stay of nearly a week during which she will study social and economic conditions.

Before entering her plane Mrs. Roosevelt consented to deliver a brief speech to a gathering of women.

Gov. Paul M. Pearson was Mrs. Roosevelt's official host in the Virgin Islands.

The president's wife set herself an ambitious program for her 24 hours visit to the Virgin Islands—to inquire into island development, education, attention to homeless youths, illiteracy, economic plans, the bay rum industry and home-steading. She has shown, however, unusual knowledge of these questions in advance.

Mrs. Roosevelt flew to St. Croix this morning to inspect federal projects there. She swam and did water skiing on the beach with Governor Pearson.

She told a large meeting of St. Croix women to organize and exert their influence for home welfare. The president is their friend, she said.

A local suffrage league, carrying a banner urging votes for women presented Mrs. Roosevelt with a gift of antique jewelry.

The women murmured "God be with you" and sang a farewell song.

TWO COASTAL SHIPS DAMAGED IN CRASH

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—(UP)—Two coastal ships damaged in a collision off Point Conception, were expected to reach port today for repairs.

The Standard Oil tanker F. H. Hillman and the lumber schooner Lumberman, owned by the Coast Bay Lumber company, collided in a dense fog, marine officers here were advised. Each proceeded under its own power after the crash.

The tanker, with several bow plates crumpled, was due at San Pedro, while a drydock was prepared at Oakland to receive the schooner. The latter had several plates bent amidships.

NELLIE ROSS QUITS COMMITTEE POST

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The parade of Democratic party resignations inspired by the administration's stand for a divorce of political and governmental functions continued today with Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, one-time governor of Wyoming, as the latest recruit.

Mrs. Ross resigned as Democratic national committeewoman from Wyoming and vice chairman of the national committee.

Mrs. Ross is director of the mint and explained that she was resigning to avoid "even the appearance of conflicting interests." Her act followed a similar step taken by Arthur Mullen, Nebraska committeeman now engaged in legal practice here. It was the fifth credited to the president's policy.

Stout Quits State Board As Protest

Secretary Resigns on Intimation of Foreclosure on Vets' Homes

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 8.—(UP)—Threatened eviction of 2,000 California war veteran home owners threw service men's organizations and political circles in an uproar today and led to the resignation of George Stout, for 12 years secretary of the state veterans' welfare board.

Stout resigned in protest to a new board policy intimating foreclosure on veterans' purchase homes owned by service men who are three months or more in arrears on their payments. American Legion and other veterans' organizations throughout the state were expected to fight the edict.

The secretary named John P. Brennan, director of veterans affairs and a prominent figure in the Ralph administration, as responsible for the foreclosure plan. Brennan and Stout have been "at outs" for some time, and it was known at the capital that Governor Ralph sought to have Governor Brennan appoint some one to succeed Stout as a board member.

Many Delinquent

The board is faced with a current delinquency of $655,849 and in order to keep its bonds sound and to force collections, it was believed necessary to adopt a policy of entering the landlord business and foreclosing on delinquencies, according to information revealed here.

Some 12,000 veterans own homes under the purchase act. The welfare board advanced the money and constructed the homes, and veterans were permitted to pay for them by making monthly deposits. More than 2,000 are delinquent three or more months. If the foreclosure order is carried out, they may be evicted.

The new order, it was learned here, was adopted at a Fresno meeting Saturday night but did not become known immediately. It was based "on the theory that the board should protect itself against financial loss when it is proved that a veteran in default has no chance of making the payments required under the purchase act."

It was reliably reported to oil circles that the interior department opposed proposed modification on the ground that it would have the effect of promoting unrestricted price wars in California and would flood the country with surplus gasoline.

The department of justice, it was said, proposes to modify a consent decree negotiated in 1930 between the government and California oil operators. The contemplated changes, the interior department contends would make the Pacific coast cartel agreement, recently approved by oil administrators, impossible to operate.

The original consent decree, in substance, prohibited plans being drawn by a few California companies to purchase "distress" or surplus gasoline and allocate the market among themselves. The cartel provides that surplus gasoline may be purchased by signatories on a quota basis.

CONTROVERSY OVER PACIFIC COAST CARTEL BLAMED FOR GASOLINE WAR

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—A controversy between the interior and justice departments over proposed modifications to a 1930 oil treaty which governs oil prices, it was learned today, eventually may go to President Roosevelt for settlement, it was indicated today.

HAVANA TELEPHONE WORKERS WALK OUT

HAVANA, Cuba, March 8.—(UP)—Defying a government decree, the Havana Telephone company employees struck today in a movement which threatened serious developments for the regime of President Carlos Mendieta.

A call for general strike already had been issued.

Telephone workers walked out without notice, leaving the capital entirely without telephone communications—a vital link in the government's far-reaching precautions against possible disorders.

The leaders of the strike said they had demanded definite action on their demands by the government by today.

FIXED WHEAT PRICE MEETS OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The United States would oppose any plan for a fixed world wheat price unless there were universal evidence of crop limitation, it was indicated at the agriculture department today.

The international wheat advisory committee is scheduled to meet in Rome, Italy, on April 5 and the price-fixing question is certain to be a paramount issue. American delegates, it is understood, will be instructed to consider first what has been done by other countries toward reducing production. If crop reduction action is deemed to have been contrary to the spirit of commitments made at London last summer, price-fixing would be opposed.

LILLIAN HOLLEY FACING OUSTER FROM HER POST

Sheriff Who Was Responsible for Dillinger Escape May Lose Post

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—Federal prison officials today ordered the removal of all federal prisoners from the Crown Point, Ind., county jail from which John Dillinger made a spectacular escape last week.

CROWN POINT, Ind., March 8.—(UP)—Lake county officials today debated filing legal papers asking the removal of Sheriff Lillian Holley, from whose jail John Dillinger, alleged killer, escaped.

The move was backed by Robert G. Estill, county prosecutor, and Edward Barce, assistant attorney general of Indiana. The removal would be accomplished under a state law which provides for the removal of any county officer who neglects or fails to perform his duty.

Dillinger's success in walking out of the jail under the menace of a carved wooden imitation of a gun was the source of serious charges. Two guards were formally charged with aiding and abetting the escape. They were Ernest Blunk, deputy sheriff, and Sam Cahoon, turnkey.

Federal agents entered the hunt for Dillinger when Melvin Purvis, Chicago official of the department of justice, obtained a warrant for Dillinger and Herbert Youngblood, Negro murder suspect, who escaped with the outlaw, on charges of transporting a stolen automobile from Indiana to Illinois.

PRESENT EVIDENCE IN PIERPONT TRIAL

LIMA, O., March 8.—(UP)—Presentation of state's evidence in the trial of Harry Pierpont to death in the electric chair was started in Allen county common pleas court here today.

Selection of a jury in the trial of the Dillinger gangster who is accused of the murder of Sheriff Jesse L. Sarber last October 12 was completed at a night court session last night.

PUBLIC MEETINGS IN MADRID BANNED

MADRID, March 8.—(UP)—Reinforcement of the Guardia Civil and the auxiliary police was sought by the government today. Operating under a national state of alarm decree, it acted on the belief that Socialists planned a revolutionary general strike.

Large public gatherings, political or social, were forbidden in a new decree today. The government was prepared if necessary to declare martial law.

JOHNSON IN OUTLINE TO CONFERENCE

Administrator Warns of Epidemic of Strikes Unless Action is Taken

PRICE STABILIZATION

Further Reduction in Hours and Increased Wages is Included in Proposals

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—A warning that this country is moving toward the worst epidemic of strikes in its history today accompanied the Roosevelt administration's demand upon industry to increase employment.

To aid industry in meeting the demand, recovery administrator Hugh S. Johnson announced that reorganization of NRA would be undertaken immediately. Plans outlined to a congress of NRA industrialists representing employers of 90 per cent of American industrial workers call for changes in wage and hours schedules, effective enforcement against "chisellers," protection against monopoly and prevention of cut throat competition.

Here are the 12 points of NRA revision and reform which recovery administrator Hugh S. Johnson will undertake to effect in the next few weeks:

12 Point Program

Better price stabilization to maintain wages, eliminate predatory price cutting and insure against too rapid price advances.

A more effective rule on costs to prevent sales below production cost.

Uniformity of wages and hourly pay rates in competitive industries.

Uniform classification of north-south areas in fixing wage differentials.

Further reductions in hours per week and further increase in hourly wages.

Effective protection against monopoly and oppression of small enterprises.

Better methods to effect prompt and universal compliance.

Safe financing of code administration to prevent racketeering.

Elimination of code conflict and inconsistencies.

Adequate labor and consumer representation on code authorities.

Uniform governmental code authority representation.

BANK MESSENGER IS ROBBED OF $50,000

GREENVILLE, S. C., March 8.—(UP)—A South Carolina National bank messenger was held up by two bandits today and robbed of a mail sack containing $50,000. The messenger was taking the pouch from the post office to the bank.

Blocking the street with their automobile, a new V-8 Ford sedan, the bandits forced the messenger to stop his machine and then made him climb out. They took the mail bag, returned to their own car and fled in the direction of Atlanta.

The bandit automobile bore North Carolina license tags.

PEACE OFFICERS TOLD OF PLAN FOR EMERGENCY

Captain Howard J. Brooks, chief criminal deputy of the Los Angeles sheriff's office, was the principal speaker at the meeting last night in the Brea Masonic hall of the Orange County Peace Officers' association.

Brooks delivered a speech, in which he made many statements about Communism, which he did not define, and declared there were hundreds of them in Orange county. He said they must be stamped out to prevent further labor troubles.

The major disaster plan used in Los Angeles was described by Brooks and urged for Orange county. At the close of his talk, it was moved by the association to have a committee confer with Sheriff Logan Jackson and the supervisors to work out a similar plan for Orange county.

The Los Angeles plan combines all law enforcement and patriotic bodies in case of emergency. The sheriff and his aides have charge of seven divisions, as follows: communication, public safety, transportation, supplies, subsistence, traffic, and personnel.

Judge James L. Allen of the superior court was a guest at the meeting and urged law officials to refrain from sending persons to the state mental hospitals for insanity, because of overcrowded conditions. He said that these persons should be confined in local jails on drunkenness counts and only extreme cases be sent to the hospital.

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, March 8. (To the Editor of The Register) — See where they caught two of the guards that got out of the jail with Dillinger. They had him surrounded in Chicago, but he robbed a bank in South Dakota that day, so they was right on his trail. Just three States behind.

They can't seem to agree on the Wall Street control bill (Fletcher-Rayburn Bill); what they ought to do with Wall Street is like with the farmers, say, "How much gambling did you do last year?" "Your Honor, I bet a hundred thousand dollars." "Well, this year we want you to cut it down to seventy-five thousand, and we will pay you thirty thousand for not betting the other twenty-five."

It was charged that this would mean "ruin" to the independent dealers who, under the cartel, are allowed a differential of one-half cent a gallon less than the major companies, or one cent less than affiliates of major companies.

ARREST MOTORIST FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Arrested for drunken driving at 8:30 o'clock last night, J. McMillan, 56, 515 West First street, was booked at the county jail by Officers A. T. Holmes and Harry Pritchard.

McMillan was arrested at First and Barton streets by Officer Holmes after narrowly escaping a collision. He was pronounced intoxicated by a physician and admitted drinking wine, according to officers.

THERMOMETERS GO "CRAZY WITH HEAT"

While it was "unusually" warm in Santa Ana today for this time of the year, just how warm it actually was seemed to be hard to determine.

At 11:45 o'clock this morning a thermometer on the roof of the First National bank building registered 81 degrees. Mercury in the thermometer at street level at Knox and Stout's, formerly Hill and Son, on East Fourth street, rose to 100 degrees. Another thermometer at about the same time in the 400 block on North Sycamore street, registered 90 degrees, while an official government thermometer at E. E. Campbell's ranch in Orange, registered 86 degrees.

California has invested $5,407,700 in veterans homes and farms since 1922. Bond issues raised $30,000,000 of this amount. An additional $20,000,000 issue was approved by the last legislature and will be voted upon in the November election, to take care of demands of some of the thousands of veterans who failed to be included in benefit loans of the first $50,000,000.

JOHNSON PLANS TO REORGANIZE NRA PROGRAMS

Wide use of code mechanism for settling labor disputes.

Increases Wages

Johnson called upon industry specifically to increase hourly wages rates 10 per cent and to reduce the work week by the same per cent. This would cut the average NRA work week to 36 hours but labor would receive the same pay now obtained for 40 hours, Johnson said it was intended that President Roosevelt shortly should impose upon industry a new deal including the shorter work week. However, each company or industry first will be allowed to present proof that the plan was not practicable for it.

Johnson warned industry that it must take advantage of its self-government opportunity before congress loses patience with the NRA.

He said several weeks of discussion would precede final decision on re-organization of NRA and employment. After the conference, President Roosevelt will announce regulations probably in the form of an executive order, re-vamping employment and other sections of all codes.

Warns of Strikes

Reprimand to industry for sharp dealing with labor and a demand for scrupulous observance of the law granting labor the right of self-organization led Johnson to warn of impending strikes.

"We have to accord labor the rights guaranteed by this act," he said. "There is no law prohibiting a company union as such if there is no interposition whatever by employees and if the men freely choose it. But 99 times out of 100, you and I know this is not the case. Let's not kid ourselves. Let us act before congress acts. Let us obey the law. Let's get this troublesome question settled promptly and for all time. We know something about what is toward in this country—the worst epidemic of strikes in our history. Why suffer it. Here is a way out. Play the game. Submit to the law and get it over quickly."

Re-organization of NRA will be accompanied, Johnson said, by a campaign to revive public sentiment for the Blue Eagle combined with strict enforcement of code regulations against violators.

"Don't advise anybody to trifle with that bird," Johnson told his auditors.

The re-building of delinquent boys at Whittier State school was described by W. H. Wright in a talk on "Bad Boys" which was voted best of those given at the meeting of the Toastmasters held last evening at the Doris-Kathryn tea rooms.

Wilfred Taylor, discussing "Mass Production and Mass Purchasing Power," won second place. Robert Speed told of the development of the early guns and rifles used in America, demonstrating the advances in design with guns loaned from the Roy S. Horton collection.

A. G. Green, continuing the discussion of fire-arms, spoke of the development of pistols and revolvers, displaying several of the well known weapons used in early frontier and army days.

Tage Carlson, speaking on subsistence farming, told of the project started in West Virginia and what is hoped to be accomplished. Roy Cumpston acted as toastmaster.

action should be the basis for cancellation of contracts.

He explained that "such safeguards should be provided as will prevent the evil practices of excessive salaries, unearned bonuses, and illegitimate personal expense accounts detrimental to the interests of legitimate stockholders and the public."

Maximum Hours

The president also urged statutory provisions of maximum flying hours and pilots, minimum wages and a retirement or annuity system.

"Enactment of legislation along the lines suggested," he observed, "will establish a sound, stable and permanent air mail policy. Such legislation will relieve air transport companies from paralyzing monopolistic control."

Administration quarters expected the suggested reform measure would be quickly drafted.

Legislation to carry out President Roosevelt's plan for a re-organized private operation of the air-mail will be introduced in congress within a few days and pressed to early enactment, Chairman Kenneth McKellar of the senate postoffice committee, said today.

McKellar said hearings would be held if interested parties desired. McKellar said that the "great outstanding feature" of the new law would be to provide for "honest competitive bidding" on the new air mail contracts.

"We want to be absolutely fair to all companies," he said, "and at the same time to put into effect a thoroughly honest service."

TRIES TO ESCAPE; GETS $100 FINE ON SPEED CHARGE

It will cost Marvin Fisher of Riverside just $100 for trying to run away from a Santa Ana motor cop.

Fisher appeared in police court yesterday for judgment on reckless driving charges after having a peculiar trial Tuesday afternoon. Fisher pleaded guilty, then changed his mind, hired Attorney Elmer Guy of Brea and pleaded not guilty. Before Officer E. E. Lentz could call his eight witnesses against Fisher, Guy changed Fisher's plea back to guilty.

Having gone to considerable trouble in getting the witnesses together, Lentz persuaded Judge J. G. Mitchell to allow each to tell his story of the affair but not under oath. It developed in the stories that on February 21, Fisher raced down South Main street at more than 60 miles an hour, eluded Lentz and two school policemen, turned off the highway at Paularino when Lentz was about to arrest him and then drove his car into a barley field with Lentz close behind. The chase ended abruptly when Fisher tried to hurdle an irrigation ditch in his car and was thrown out.

Fisher, a milkman, promised to pay the $100 fine in installments.

Lecture Series On Home Decoration To Begin Friday

A series of eight lectures on interior decoration will be given starting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the library of the Willard Junior High school. It was announced today.

She has a background of experience gained in specialized study and travel in Europe and the Orient, according to announcement of the course.

Whose Fault?

The Boy or Girl Who Refuses to Eat

"What have I ever done to deserve a child who refuses to eat, and is just skin and bones?" The mother who asks that question might be surprised to learn that she alone is to blame. She knows a lack of appetite is the sign of a clogged system, but does the wrong thing to remedy the condition. A violent cathartic that upsets the stomach pulls down a child like a spell of sickness. It often forms the laxative habit. A more sensible way of regulating children is explained in the column to the right:

It's a lucky girl whose mother knows how to regulate her children's bowels, without some strong, evil-tasting cathartic that upsets the system and ruins their appetite! Whenever sluggishness coats the little tongue, makes the whites of the eyes a bilious yellow, or a child is headachy and fretful, just try pure California Syrup of Figs. The senna in this fruit laxative is so agreeable to take, so natural in action! Get real California Syrup of Figs at any drug store. The bottle should say "California".

L. A. CWA DIRECTOR ASKS COMPLAINTS

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—In a new request for complaints of injustices in connection with the Civil Works Administration, Maj. Donald H. Connolly, county director, yesterday urged workers and others to cooperate with the newly formed intelligence bureau.

The bureau under the direction of Capt. Don Wilkie, former secret service agent, has charge of investigating all complaints and taking action to remedy cases where injustice or irregularities are found.

He assured workers that their jobs would not be endangered by reporting injustices, and urged persons having evidence to place it in the hands of the "secret service" unit.

NAME BOARD TO DETERMINE WAGE SCALES

Acting on instructions received from Edward Macauley, state CWA director, Orange County Director Robert Ramsey announced today that a wage board will meet this afternoon in CWA headquarters. Meeting of this board is considered to be the first step toward reorganization of CWA machinery in 11 western states to conform with policies intimated Monday by President Roosevelt.

According to a statement made yesterday by Pierce Williams, regional emergency relief director, the new program roughly embraces the following:

- (1) Twenty-six weeks of work a year for every unemployed man and woman deserving employment.
- (2) Compensation at wages on a par with those paid by private industry in the locality where employed.
- (3) No limitation or quota restrictions on the number to be employed.
- (4) Definite classification of workers with rate of pay based on that classification; every man to be assigned to a definitely classified type of job.
- (5) Organization of local committees composed of representatives of labor, industry and F.E.R.C. to classify jobs and fix fair rate of pay.

Ramsey started machinery moving today toward appointment of the members of this wage board upon receipt of telegraphic instructions from Macauley. Jules Markel is a member of the board representing business and will serve as chairman. J. S. Flour will serve in an advisory capacity. The second member of the board is A. L. Carey of Anaheim and was selected by the Central Labor Council to represent organized labor. W. W. Hay, pipeline superintendent for the Union Oil company, was named as the third member of the board representing the Orange County Federal Emergency Relief committee of which he is a member.

Instructions from Macauley were as follows:

"Under orders from Washington this date you will organize a wage board composed of one each responsible executives from labor, business and local F. R. A. This board will undertake at once the determination of the prevailing wages in trades in your district, using authentic and official information and not confined to depression scales."

"Report complete findings and recommendations as early as possible to this office and when approved all changes will be retroactive to March 2."

Ramsey said this morning that other than receipt of the telegram just quoted he has had no further instructions relative to reorganization of the CWA machinery or what the new policy will be.

The wage board, he said, will fix the rates for workers in the various trades. In other published reports relative to the reorganization it was said that the board also would fix definite classification of workers with rates of pay based on that classification; every man to be assigned to a definitely classified type of job. Ramsey said that workers under CWA in this county already have been classified.

Now! A Quicker Way to Ease Pain

Don't Forget Real BAYER Aspirin Starts "Taking Hold" in Few Minutes

Here is quicker relief from pain—the fastest safe relief, it is said, ever known. This is due to a scientific discovery by which BAYER Aspirin starts "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass here tells the story. A Bayer tablet starts to disintegrate or dissolve—go to work—almost instantly. This means quick relief from pain—fewer lost hours from headache, neuritis, rheumatism. And safe relief. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

When you buy, see that you get the genuine Bayer Aspirin. The best way is never to ask for aspirin by the name "aspirin" alone. But if you want Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always to say "BAYER Aspirin."

Ask Water Permit For 850 Acre Feet On South Coast

A. J. Stead, Laguna Beach, has filed an application with the state department of public works, division of water resources, to appropriate 850 acre feet a year from Aliso creek, tributary to the Pacific ocean, according to information received from Sacramento today.

According to the notice, the water is to be diverted for municipal purposes in the South Coast Water District.

BEACH FIREMAN IS INJURED IN FREAK ACCIDENT

Robert Dee Woodward, assistant chief of the Laguna Beach fire department and president of the Orange County Firemen's association, is in a serious condition at the Laguna Beach hospital as the result of a freak accident yesterday afternoon when a pick flew out of the hands of a workman, digging a ditch back of the fire hall in the art colony, and the point entered the left side of his neck, puncturing the jugular vein.

According to physicians who treated Woodward at the hospital, the fireman would have bled to death had it not been for the quick action of John Brenot, another workman, who stopped the bleeding until the injured man was taken to the hospital in the first aid wagon of the fire department. He will recover but will be confined for several days, the doctor said.

Police Chief Abe W. Johnson, who investigated the accident, said the accident happened when Warren Clapp, a city employee standing with his legs apart digging in the ditch with Woodward in the ditch behind him. As Clapp brought the pick down it slipped out of his hands, went between his legs and struck Woodward, who was leaning over. The point of the pick made a deep gash in Woodward's neck.

Woodward is widely known throughout California for his work in behalf of the firemen. He has been connected with the Laguna Beach fire department since the volunteer company was organized in 1923 and has been assistant chief for many years. He is serving his second term as president of the Orange County Association.

BARBERS IN SANTA ANA BOOST PRICES

Uniform prices for barber shop services went into effect today in the Santa Ana trade area, following agreement of more than 90 per cent of the shop owners, it was learned from President C. E. Wilson and Secretary A. H. Bauer of the governing board.

Prices for hair cuts will be raised to 50 cents, with 25 cents being charged for children's hair cuts. Shaves will cost 25 cents and ladies neck trims the same, according to Wilson. He said that these prices were fair to the public and still allowed the shop owners to make a legitimate profit. He emphasized that the local barbers had consistently fought the higher prices of Northern California codes and former attempts to set uniform prices.

Beauty parlors will be under the same regulations as the barber shops in so far as they offer similar services, it was pointed out by Wilson.

NRA AND CWA SUBJECT FOR WORKERS MEET

Two subjects of great importance to working men, the CWA and NRA, will be discussed at a meeting of Orange county CWA workers, persons who have registered for work and those who are unemployed, at a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Frances Willard junior high school, 1342 North Ross street.

The Rev. Russell Stroup, minister of the Christ Church by the Sea, Newport Beach, will be the speaker and will lead the discussion.

Another feature of the meeting will be to discuss local organizations for each community, according to A. R. Boelen of Garden Grove, president of the Workers' Cooperative association.

The group is planning to set up local organizations in each community so that better relief facilities for all unemployed workers may be obtained and to consider general welfare problems. Boelen announced.

BAIL JUMPER FOUND GUILTY IN THEFT CASE

Howard Mitchell is scheduled to appear tomorrow morning before Superior Judge G. K. Scofield for pronouncement of judgment following his conviction by a jury last night on a charge of grand theft. Mitchell was found guilty of the theft of $2000 from W. N. Smith in a deal involving share in the Pacific Royalties corporation, a corporation which never was formed.

Smith testified that he had given Mitchell a note for $2000 with the understanding that within four months he would receive his $2000 and $2000 in stock in the concern to be organized for dealing in oil royalties.

HELBUSH WILL BE TRIED FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Herman Helbush Jr., proprietor of the Meowlark Country club near Huntington Beach was bound over to the Superior court on a charge of drunken driving after a preliminary hearing in the Seal Beach justice court late yesterday.

Helbush was on trial in connection with the injury of Miss Gladys Guthro of Long Beach in an auto accident in Seal Beach on February 25. Several witnesses were introduced with testimony asserting that Helbush was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident. The defendant will have an information filed against him in Superior court on Friday, March 16.

Last reports from the Community hospital in Long Beach where Miss Guthro has been confined since the accident state that she has shown slight improvement and physicians have only slight hope for her recovery. She was placed under an oxygen tent 11 days ago, and has rallied slightly.

county were mentioned during the trial as having invested in Mitchell's proposed corporation.

Mitchell attained considerable prominence by jumping bail here, again at Chicago and lodging a bitter fight in Florida to prevent extradition.

State Chief Of Sons Of Veterans To Speak In S. A.

Dr. Ralph R. Barnett, of Huntington Park, department commander of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, will be the honored guest and speaker at a regular meeting of Santa Ana Camp No. 12 tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, in the K. of P. hall, it was announced today by C. F. Millen, camp officer.

Roy N. Pollock, commander of the local camp, expects a large turnout in honor of the visit of the department commander. Following a business meeting, refreshments will be served.

S. A. LIONS GIVE PROGRAM FOR ORANGE CLUB

Santa Ana Lions presented the program for members of the Orange Lions club at a meeting held at the Orange American Legion clubhouse yesterday noon with Glen Tidball as the program chairman. Tidball was introduced by the president of the Santa Ana Lions, Carson Smith.

The program, burlesque throughout, was opened by a talk given in Italian by Caesar Clanton for "Italy and Austria." Dr. R. O. Grover, announced as a one-man band, played a group of selections. The Lions quartet, E. M. Sundquist, Dr. Elliott Rowland, Bruce Munroe and Lyle Anderson, with Sundquist playing the accompaniment, sang "Sweet Adeline" with variations and the "Last Round-up."

One of the cleverest features on the program was a burlesque mind reading act with Lyle Anderson as a mystic Swami and Bury Shafter as his efficient manager. The program was closed with a talk by Harold Yost, who spoke on the need of a new organization to be known as the "Burn a Book a Week" club.

In a short business session, it was announced that the topic for discussion at the meeting of the county council Monday at the Green Cat cafe, Gordon X. Richmond will lead the forum discussion on Lionism vs. Crime."

DISMISSAL OF OIL SUIT ASKED BY DEFENDANT

Another move to eliminate the State of California from litigation over alleged whiptock drilling of oil wells in Huntington Beach was made today by the Milroy Oil company, defendant in one of the many actions already started by the state. The oil company today filed a demurrer to the complaint filed by the state naming the company as defendant and also filed a notice of motion to dismiss and strike from the records the state complaint.

The motion to strike the state's complaint from the records will be made in superior court here March 16. The defendant, Milroy Oil company will move for dismissal of the complaint on the grounds that the attorney general has no authority to institute or maintain such action.

Gas and oil underlying the tidelands is not owned by the state and therefore removal does not constitute trespass.

Alleged acts of the defendants do not constitute nuisance and an injunction will not lie.

Control and jurisdiction of tidelands is not vested in the state; and the court is without jurisdiction.

The demurrer sets forth that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action and that the plaintiff state does not have the legal capacity to sue.

The demurrer also alleges a defect or misjoinder of parties plaintiff to the action in that the surveyor general, nor the director of finance, nor the division of state lands of the department of finance are not joined as party plaintiffs and a further defect or misjoinder of parties defendant in that each of the defendants, Pacific Electric Railway company, Pacific Electric Land company, Huntington Beach company and the Standard Oil company are not proper parties defendant to the alleged cause of action if there be any cause of action and are improperly joined in the suit.

SCHOOL SURVEY REQUESTED BY BEACH C. OF C.

NEWPORT BEACH, March 8.—A school survey of the Newport Beach school district by the Division of Schoolhouse planning of the State Education department was to be requested today by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce as the best solution of the school reconstruction problem which has been agitating this community for some months.

A decision to ask for a survey was made at a meeting of the chamber Wednesday night, following a report by C. A. Pallen, Irvin G. Gordon and Mayor Hilmer, members of a committee which had during the afternoon held a conference with Dr. Earley of the state department and with Ray Adkins, county superintendent of schools, at the latter's office in Santa Ana.

It was learned that surveys of this kind are often made in communities when insufficient expert knowledge is not available in the communities, or when there are sharp differences of opinion in regard to school buildings, school sites and other matters. Such a survey, without cost to the community and made by unbiased experts, could be completed in two or three weeks, it was said.

The local school board, consisting of Vernon Orr, Conrad H. Shook and C. H. Way, has asked for a loan of $110,000 from government funds and also for a grant of some $30,000, planning to spend the $140,000 total in rebuilding the elementary school.

Differences of opinion as to the type of construction, size of building or buildings, facilities, proper site and whether or not all school accommodations should be permanently located at the site of the present school, less than three acres in extent, although the adjoining beach is used as a playground, led to the action taken by the chamber. The chamber will ask the school board to request the state department to make the survey and will endorse its request, it was stated.

ASK DONATIONS FOR COMPLETION OF TWO ROQUE COURTS HERE

Santa Ana will be equipped with two first class roque courts in the near future, it is hoped by lovers of the sport, which is similar to croquet.

The hope lies in the fact that one essential part of the roque courts will be missing unless help is forthcoming. Under the CWA project to construct a recreation center on West Walnut street, two roque courts were included. The cement curbing around the court was included in the specifications, but no one thought of the essential steel rail to be embedded in the cement to provide a hard surface for bouncing and banking the balls.

Since no funds are forthcoming through the CWA and the courts will be very inferior without the rails, O. S. Johnston of the Business Institute, is leading a cam-

CIVILIZATION PROGRESS HELD BY PREJUDICES

That foolish prejudices are doing more than anything else to retard the progress of civilization was the opinion of Dr. Edward A. Steiner, sociologist and teacher of applied Christianity at Grinnell college in Grinnell, Iowa, who spoke at Santa Ana Junior college assembly yesterday, as the annual "Y" day lecturer.

Dr. Steiner went on to say that it was difficult if not impossible to ally these prejudices, because emotions play such an important part in ruling human action.

During the World war, according to Dr. Steiner, college professors along with illiterate tenement dwellers permitted their emotions to overcome their good sense, so that it was impossible for anyone to think logically.

Dr. Steiner is a native of Czechoslovakia, and was educated in Berlin. He is now an ordained Congregational minister.

Boy Steals Purse From Taylor Home

Mrs. M. V. Taylor, 820 Riverine street, had a purse stolen from her home by a boy who ran into her home yesterday afternoon, she reported to police.

Mrs. Taylor said she was in the back yard when she saw a youth run from the back porch. She investigated and found a black and gray leather purse, valued at $1, missing. She said the youth was about 5 feet 3 or 5 inches tall, weighed from 115 to 140 pounds and appeared to be from 14 to 15 years of age.

BARRYMORE FILM NOW AT BROADWAY

Lionel Barrymore heads an impressive cast in "This Side of Heaven," in which love, comedy and tragic consequences follow happenings to members of a typical American household, which opens tonight at the Broadway theater for a three-day run.

Co-featured with "This Side of Heaven" is a gripping and exotic murder mystery, "Bombay Mail," in which most of the action takes place in a lavish train in India. Edmund Lowe is starred in the picture, ably supported by Shirley Grey, Ralph Forbes, Onslow Stevens, John Davidson, Brandon Hurst and Hedda Hopper.

Barrymore is supported by Fay Bainter, Mae Clark, Tom Brown, Una Merkel, Mary Carlisle, Onslow Stevens, Dicke Moore, and other favorites.

$575,400 TO BE EXPENDED IN ORANGE COUNTY

More than $575,400 will be expended in the Orange county district by the Southern Counties Gas company during 1934, according to an announcement made today by Fred G. Merker, district manager of the company.

This figure includes estimates for payrolls, estimates for materials, supplies, taxes and new construction. The territory in which these expenditures will be made include Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange, Santa Ana, Brea, Buena Park, San Juan Capistrano, Garden Grove, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Placentia, San Clemente, Seal Beach, Laguna Beach, Tustin, Westminster and Yorba Linda.

Payrolls for the many families of which the wage earner is engaged in carrying on the company's work in this district will amount to $247,300, Merker said. Materials and supplies including maintenance of existing property and contemplated new construction will total $107,600. Taxes, national, state and local, will amount to $156,900, he stated.

Included in the company's facilities in the Orange county district is a total of 599.7 miles of distribution mains and in addition to this, many miles of large transmission lines which tap every major natural gas producing field in California. It was stated, assuring users of natural gas here an adequate, uninterrupted supply.

DINNER EVENT TONIGHT OPENS LEGION HOME

be open to the public with a big reception planned for the occasion. The event tonight will be staged.

Many American Legion officials, city and county officials and others will be guests of honor tonight at the meeting which is scheduled to be addressed by Byron Pitts, district attorney of Los Angeles county and past department commander. Archie Closson, department Americanism chairman, also will speak briefly.

A gala event celebrating the opening of the new reconstructed American Legion hall on Birch street between Third and Fourth street will be staged at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Damaged severely by the earthquake which rocked Southern California a year ago next Saturday, the new Legion home has been completely reconstructed and now is ready for occupancy. A second event Saturday night will

During the dinner hour, Myford Carrillo's eight-piece dance orchestra will furnish music. The Santa Ana Elks Double quartet, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong, will sing. A group of songs will be presented by Charles Willis, a talented singer from the Camp Trawbuck CCG camp. The Auxiliary Glee Club will sing a group of numbers popular in 1917 and 1918. Dinner will be served by the auxiliary.

Officers of the Legion post today paid tribute to the excellent work done by contractors and others who aided in the reconstruction of the building.

These included Ball and Honer, general contractors; Christian A. Choate, Dixon and Bowman, architects; Santa Ana Art Glass Works, glass; Payne Furnace and Supply company, furnaces and heating; Santa Ana Lumber company, lumber and Nu-Wood for ceiling; Wright, Lawrence and Cameron, plumbing; MacFarlane Electric, lighting fixtures; E. M. Sundquist, public liability insurance; E. W. Morrison, plastering; Cave Electric company, electric wiring; A. E. Fowler and Sons, excavating, rock and sand; Soren F. Sorenson, brick; Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture company, mill work; W. C. Wieland, hardwood floors; Walter F. Sorenson, painting; McFadden-Dale, dishes and kitchen utensils; Featherly Drapery company, draperies; Dickey Furniture company, lounge furnishings and folding chairs; William C. Lorenz, silverware; Foster-Barker, amplifier; Lawrence Smoke shop, cigars.

Beginning March 16, the Legion will stage public dances every Friday night in the new hall. A 10-piece dance orchestra will furnish music for the dances.

Inside and outside, the new Veterans' hall, as it is called, is one of the most attractive buildings in the city. Of Spanish design, the building will be surrounded by shrubbery and flowers to enhance its beauty.

Entering the building through the main entrance on the south side of the edifice, the first room to the left is used as a ticket office and storage room. This enters on the home-like, heavily carpeted lounge room, with colorful beamed ceilings and good-looking drapes. New and comfortable furniture, overstuffed and other types, with a fireplace, add to the attractiveness of the room.

Near the check room which will be used for checking hats, coats, etc., is a public telephone for the convenience of guests. Two rest rooms, one for women and another for men, are modern and tiled. The kitchen is spacious and well lighted with heavy linoleum used as the floor covering. Large gas ranges will be used by members of the auxiliary to prepare dinners and luncheons. Tiled sinks and many large cupboards, together with other kitchen furniture, including sink and work tables in the center of the room, make for efficiency as well as convenience. A dumb waiter has been installed to conveniently serve parties in the upper floor.

GRIMM ORDERS
CUBS TO 'BEAR
DOWN' HARDER

CATALINA ISLAND, March 8.—(UP)—Falling to finish first with a pennant-winning team last year, Charlie Grimm, manager of the Chicago Cubs, has a few things about handling a bunch of ball players.

Grimm took over the Cubs shortly after mid-season in 1932 and piloted them to the pennant. Last year, however, the Cubs finished third.

"I learned more about managing a team last year than I did when we won the pennant," said Grimm. "I hope now up to me to put into practice two of the important things I learned last year during the coming season."

Grimm said he would strive this season to:

(1) Keep his players happy, and "A player won't give you his best unless he respects you and thinks you are managing the club for the best interests of all concerned," said Grimm. "You can't high-bat the players, crack the whip over them, or try to play the master-mind. The players make the manager, and any time the manager thinks the players and the team he is heading for trouble."

"I learned last season that I was too lenient with some of the players. I didn't keep them hustling enough. We have enough reserve strength this season to permit me to bench any player that isn't giving his best. No ball club ever won a pennant unless it was hustling all the time. The Giants last season are proof that the hustling ball club is the best ball club."

Grimm is anxious to prove that the late William Veeck made no mistake when he ousted Rogers Hornsby, and made him manager in a daring shake-up during the 1932 pennant race. Under Grimm the Cubs came on to win the pennant, but there are a lot of critics and fans who maintain that they would have won it anyway under Hornsby. Last season the Cubs had a potentially championship team which never quite came up to expectations.

During the winter the Cubs' owners asked Grimm to name the players we wanted to strengthen the team, and then they went out and got them.

"I told my bosses that I was perfectly satisfied with the players they have given me for the 1934 season," said Grimm, "and it is now up to me to show them that I can successfully manage a major league club."

'BO' McMILLAN NEW
INDIANA GRID COACH

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 8.—(UP)—Appointment of A. N. ("Bo") McMillan, former star of the Centre college "Praying Colonels," as head football coach at the University of Indiana was praised today by faculty members and students.

The announcement of McMillan's appointment to succeed Bill Hayes, who retired as football coach two months ago but remained with the athletic department, was made by H. G. Clevinger, director of athletics.

McMillan, who has been football coach at Kansas State college, Manhattan, Kan., for the past six years, will arrive here next week to take charge of spring football practice.

McMillan, whose home is in Fort Worth, Tex., won National fame as the red-headed leader of the Danville, Ky. team that beat many of the largest colleges in the country at the height of its power in 1920 and 1921.

After eluding college he coached at Centenary in Shreveport, La., Geneva college in Pennsylvania and Kansas State. Last season his team lost only to the powerful Nebraska team in the Big Six.

BRUIN RUGGERS WIN
LOS ANGELES, March 8.—(UP)—The U. C. L. A. rugby team polished off its training grind for its meeting Saturday with Southern California by vanquishing the Slauson Athletic club yesterday, 15 to 5.

Many of the players reporting for the eight-week spring drill had a taste of major football last season, when the Pacific team gave mighty St. Mary's college a stubborn battle before bowing under a 6-0 defeat.

Stagg plans to start work early on the forward passing attack which featured his last season and on which he depends to make a creditable showing against the California and Trojan teams.

SAINT LIGHTIES

All the competition Santa Ana High's Class B could stand was furnished by Frances Willard junior high school's powerful track squad in a dual meet at Poly field yesterday. The Saint lightweights had a difficult time winning, 44 to 37.

The high school's victories in the high and low hurdles decided the meet, in which Willard scored five out of nine firsts. Charles Meserve won the 120 low barriers in 15.2 seconds, and Blas Mercurio the 70-yard high in 11 flat.

Ed Fitzgerald established a new Frances Willard broad jump record of 19 feet, 7 3/4 inches, bettering by 7 1/2 inches the old mark made in 1931 by Bruce Swisshelm. Although finishing second in the

60 BEGIN PRACTICE UNDER COACH STAGG
STOCKTON, March 8.—(UP)—Sixty football players gave venerable Amos Alonzo Stagg a wealth of material at College of the Pacific today for his newest bid for recognition as a football genius.

The former Chicago coach pits his squad and his wife against two members of California's "Big Three" this fall for the first time since he came to the Pacific Coast to take over coaching reins at the little college here. The Staggmen met University of California and University of Southern California in early games on the 1934 schedule.

Many of the players reporting for the eight-week spring drill had a taste of major football last season, when the Pacific team gave mighty St. Mary's college a stubborn battle before bowing under a 6-0 defeat.

SMITH'S BALL TEAM TO PLAY AGAIN

Coach "Shorty" Smith, whose teams have enjoyed unusual success in Southland prep circles, brings his Boca-Olinda high school baseball club to Poly field for a practice clash with Player-Coach Ben Koral's Santa Ana Dons here tomorrow at 3 p. m.

The upcountry Wildcats have been drilling for only a short time, and will be underdogs against the junior collegians, with four non-league games behind them. The Dons trimmed Santa Ana Hi three times, 7-3, 5-1 and 8-5, but lost to Compton Jayees 10-5.

Absence of Joe Koral, regular infielder who left for Washington Tuesday, has caused a general rearrangement of the Santa Ana lineup. Leo Morse, outfielder, has been transferred to shortstop, and Bob Wimbush, regular at that position, has been shifted to second. Reg Lake, ex-Huntington Beach star, has made such a fine showing at first base that he is showing the position virtually cinched. Art Wilde will operate at third.

Santa Ana's battery will consist of Pitcher Gordon Mallett and Catcher "Bomo" Koral, with Sophomore Ray Furuta prepared to relieve Mallett.

Wendall Kanaway, Bill McDaniell and Dick Clark, all left-handed, probably will start in the outfield, although Ben Slavin, husky right ball regular, has been hitting the ball harder than all three, and may go to right field. The only thing that has been holding Slavin back is his inability to report for practice until after 4 o'clock. Reserves who may see action are Harold Youel, Clyde Birdsong, "Chris" Demetriou, Lou Madden, Brown and Winterbourne.

Already holding recent victories in football, basketball and track, Fullerton's Indians hope to earn a perfect sports record over Santa Ana high school by defeating Coach Clyde Cooke's Saints in a non-conference game at Fullerton tomorrow at 3 p. m.

Touted only by Santa Ana junior college, whose team defeated them three straight, the Saints appear weak at present, and hardly expect to defeat Fullerton's veteran club, although the Indians dropped an 8-5 decision to Long Beach Woodrow Wilson early this week.

Coach Cooke probably will employ three pitchers, Fred Erdhaus, Art Nieblas and Jesse Ojeda, in an effort to discover a regular hurler for the league season which opens with Pasadena here April 6. Al Halderman will catch. Willie Jones, first; Hitoshi Nitta, second; Paul Bingle, short and Harold Jesse, third, will be stationed in the infield, with Fred Towner, Fred Southworth and probably Nieblas in the gardens. The Saint mentor will use all his available reserves.

NEW FOOD SPIRITS
Sister Lena's Concoction Changes King to Caveman
DISCOVERY TO MAKE HISTORY

BY HENRY M'EMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 8.—Conversations among New York's seven million or so citizens today were restricted almost entirely to speculation as to the nature of the secret food which "Leaping Lena" Levy, sister and manager of Kingfish Levinsky, compounded while doing research work among the poets and pans of her Chicago kitchen.

According to Lena, the new, strange food has been fed to the Kingfish for the last three weeks, and it will send him into the ring against Walter Neusel at the Garden tomorrow night "more deadly than a Bengal tiger, more ferocious than a wounded leopard cat."

"My new dish," Lena explained, "has made the King positively terrifying. He was terrific before, but now he's a tiger. Boy, he's a regular King Kong. No, no, I can't tell you the ingredients of the food, it's a secret!"

If Lena is not bluffing, and really has concocted a "vital" dynamic enough to change the dull, slow, clumsy, flat-footed Kingfish into a thunderbolt of fury and a devastating monsoon, she might just as well prepare to desert the prizefight business and wallow in wealth and prestige. Anyone with a food so powerful it gives a man 400 horsepower would be hard only six before he is going to find governments bidding furiously for his secret.

Give Hitler the recipe and his storm troops would be storming all over Austria in a week and be up in France's roof pulling the strings of the puppet Mussolini would go pretty high for the concoction, too, for with it his boys would be skidding down the Alps and Apennines like kids down bannisters. As a reward, Il Duce would probably give Lena a four-room apartment in the Coliseum and, alongside the Titus arch of triumph, erect one to be known as Il Leaping Lena Arco di Trionfo.

I did my best to get the recipe for the dish from Leaping Lena. I asked her if it called for eggs. If it looked like a pork chop, what it tasted like, and if it called for marshmallows on top. But she wouldn't divulge even a hint. The Herald-Tribune man said he had a hot tip from a reliable source that Roman candles was the base of the dish, but I'm inclined to doubt it.

Assuming that the Kingfish's taste is like mine, my guess is that the new dish is either tapoca or croquettes. Three weeks of tapoca and I'd be as vicious as a South American jaguar with the toothache. Three weeks of croquettes (any form) and I'd be as desperate I could take a whole roomful of jaguars, tie their tails together, and wear 'em for a bathrobe.

Croquettes are undoubtedly the lowest form of culinary life. The tip off on croquettes is that you never heard of anybody just up and making croquettes. They're strictly second day dish. And they need a strong supporting cast. Besides, any dish that can't stand on its own and must be hidden under a sauce of the same consistency and taste as whitewash is whipped from the start.

(Ed Note: To some it may seem strange to start off with King Levinsky and with meat balls. To me, however, having viewed both Kingfish and meat balls, it's a perfectly natural conclusion.)

Floyd Vaughan, holdout shortstop of the Pittsburgh club, left Fullerton today for a discussion of his salary dispute with Pirate officials at Paso Robles.

Although Vaughan last season hit better than .300 and led his club in runs, batted-home, his 1934 contract called for a sharp reduction in pay. "Arkie" resented the paring, and demanded the restoration of his old stipend (said to be $6000), if not an increase.

An unusual angle of the "Vaughan case" is that Pittsburgh spokesmen have stated repeatedly they have only one holdout (Bill Swift) whereas Vaughan four times has returned his unsigned contract.

Phil Page, the only stand-out of last year's outfit, is gone. Page, the only Indian moundsman who could win ball games with any consistency, has advanced to the Brooklyn majors.

The club's treasury is very low. At one time last season it looked as if the Pacific Coast league would be to get along without Seattle. However, a group of businessmen loyal to the front and temporarily saved the club.

George Burns, manager of the club, is highly rated as a pilot, but material is lacking. Recruits for the much-needed replacements are few at the Santa Barbara training quarters. The reason is that recruits eat, and food costs money, and money is one thing the Indians have little of.

Herman Blood, John Walters, George Caster, Bill Radonits and Henry Ulrich are all holdovers from last year's mound staff. Howard Craghead, former Oakland right-hander with the American association last year, came to Seattle in the deal that sent Page to the big leagues.

Burns is seeking two more hurlers to complete his pitching staff and in Ernest Evans, former Omaha pitcher, and Elbert Fish, Shelton, Wash., school teacher, he may have them.

The behind-the-plate division of the team rates with any in the circuit. Frank Cox, Art Bradbury and John Bottarini are a trio of capable catchers. Bottarini was "let" to the Seals last season. Cox did most of the work with Bradbury relieving.

Manager Burns plays the first base position himself. "Chick" Ellisworth will handle second base, and Art McClernan, former Washington State college boy, the shortstop job. Joe Coscarat, with the Missions for several years, will be posted at third.

Burns' biggest problem is the outfield. Only two regulars are on tap—Jimmy Welch, an old time big leaguer and ex-Mission Red, and Tony Bongiovanni, a product of the sandlots. There is a possibility that "Junk" Walters, now listed as a pitcher, may be the third man in the outfield. Walters is a better than average hitter and may get the call.

BRONCOS BEGIN PRACTICE
SANTA CLARA, March 8.—(UP)—Coach Maurice ("Clipper") Smith of Santa Clara university's football squad had 50 candidates on hand today for the initial workouts of spring football practice.

SAINTS' TRACK
CARD REUSED;
OPEN SATURDAY

Santa Ana junior college's 1934 track squad, about the strongest the Dons have had in recent years, will pass in review at Poly field tomorrow, beginning at 3 p. m. Filling in the bye which his team receives in the Eastern conference this week, Coach Reese Greene will conduct a regular intersquad meet in which he will ask his prospects for their best performances.

Since the annual interclass ceremonies, which the freshmen easily won from the sophomores 90-35, improved greatly, and it will be interesting to discover whether the underclassmen still maintain such superiority over Captain Ray Hoar's second-year men.

It is probable that Coach Greene will assign Rudy Holman and "Chuck" Malbon, prep stars from Orange and Garden Grove, to compete against each other in the mile or two-mile. Other races expected to feature the workout are the 440 headed by Elbert Bauman, the 880 led by Ray Craft, and the high and low hurdles by Lucian Wilson, Kenny Vandruft and Walt Kring.

Al Parr, ex-Tustin star handicapped with a pulled muscle, injured his leg again in practice yesterday, and may not be able to compete for several days. Parr broad-jumped 21 feet, 7 3/8 inches at the Orange Show Relays in San Bernardino.

In order that Coach Bill Cook's Saints may compete in the annual Huntington Beach Invitational March 17, Santa Ana high school's first conference track meet has been moved ahead one week, and will be held at Pasadena Saturday afternoon. Pasadena readily granted Santa Ana's request for an earlier opening date.

Perhaps the weakest team in recent Saint history, Santa Ana's 1934 squad will be fortunate to win a single league meet this season, observers believe. Captain Stranks and Bill Hawkins, however, should figure in all-league competition and at invitational meets. Stranks already has set two school records, with a mark of 50 feet, 3 1/4 inch in the shot put, and of 124 feet, 4 1/2 inches in the discus, while Hawkins is showing rapid improvement in the hurdles.

The schedule:
March 10—Santa Ana at Pasadena.
March 17—Santa Ana at Huntington Beach Invitational; San Diego at Alhambra; Long Beach at Glendale; Santa Ana at Long Beach; Pasadena at Glendale.
April 6—Glendale at Santa Ana; April 7—Long Beach at San Diego; Alhambra at Pasadena.
April 14—Alhambra at Santa Ana; Glendale at San Diego; Pasadena at Long Beach.
April 21—Santa Ana at Long Beach; Glendale at Alhambra; San Diego at Pasadena.
April 28—Coast league preliminary at Santa Ana.
May 5—Coast league finals at Santa Ana.
May 12—C. I. F. divisional meet; (place undecided).
May 19—Southern California finals at Anaheim, Los Angeles.
May 26—California state meet at Berkeley.

Coach Clyde Patton plans to take eight of his best players, including Lewis Wetherall, Muryl Hallman, Ralph Bradley, Fred Pimental, Gorton Davis, Conley Kemper, Don Kennedy and George Young. This same delegation will travel to Orange for a match with the Panthers next Tuesday.

Santa Ana's second string was to meet the Orange reserves in a match with the Saints courts today. Candidates due for action, and who may be promoted to the varsity on the strength of their first showing, are Robert Fowler, Bob Forney, Kenneth Nissley, Paul Wolven, Dean Howell, Bob Rice, Carl Aubrey and Marlow Marrs. Thompson Murdock has been selected Santa Ana manager.

Second place in the standings of the third round was definitely settled by Costa Mesa's surprise victory. The Messans finished ahead of the Mormons by a percentage of .887 to .714. The First Methodists, champions of the first two rounds, showed general improvement in defeating the Lutheran quintet. Strengthened by the return of Ed Bragg, their regular forward who played for the junior college this season, they proved themselves ready to meet the third-round champion in the '34 playoff next week.

Provided they win from the Orange Avenue Christians at the "Y" tomorrow night, the First Christians will be the third-round titlholders, and enter the two-out-of-three game series with the Methodists for the championship. United Presbyterian and the First Methodists also clash tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO U. Beats B. C. Ruggers
(UP)—A rugby team playing its first season of the sport, the University of San Francisco fifteen, handed the touring British Columbia all-stars their first California defeat yesterday. The score was 8 to 2. Don McStocker's 25-yard run and Blewett's conversion put over the winning points after Rockwell's score in the second period. ON SALESMANSHIP

The life of Francois Deschamps, which ended in Paris recently, offers many morals to the young man just trying to get along. One of the big lessons was salesmanship. A clown wandering along Paris boulevards in his youth, without a sou in his pocket, Deschamps rose to a position of power and wealth through boxing. And he didn't know a great deal about boxing either. That is, not too much.

But he was a showman and a salesman and, with some help from that expert, Tex Rickard, he maneuvered Georges Carpentier into a heavyweight championship prize fight which 75,000 people paid $1,789,238 to see.

HIT WHILE IRON IS HOT
Deschamps had color of the sort that sells well anywhere in the world. He brought "Gorgeous" Georges, the "Orchid Man of France," to this country at a time when public hysteria over prize fighting had been fanned to a high flame by Jack Dempsey.

The newspapers were filled with stories about this shrewd manager. There was a sinister air hovering about the man. Columns were devoted to his "hypnotic eye," an orb which was supposed to win fights by paralyzing the opponent—if the man had time to look.

As a matter of fact, Deschamps was not a great second, even though that impression generally was recorded on the mind of Americans.

But when he came under the guidance of Deschamps, the "doughy" Frenchman changed Georges' style all over, told him to forget about that left, and to try for the knockout with the right. Deschamps destroyed what technique and finesse Carpentier had. The punch is the thing that wins, Francois told Georges.

In Carpentier's corner at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Deschamps appeared to know no more about boxing than any other dumb cluck who tells his man to "get in there and swing and he can't hurt us."

Georges looked repeatedly toward him for a sign. Always Francois signaled to him to swing with the right. In the end Carpentier was just getting ready to let go with the right when he ran head-on into one of Dempsey's left hooks. That hook dispelled the magic of Deschamps.

But it didn't hurt Francois' pocketbook. And after sharing in that nearly $2,000,000 gate he came right back with Paulino Uzcudun, the Bounding Basque, who's still bounding.

TRAP
The demoralization of Republican Senator Fess was a put-up job by a group of old Democratic meanies.

They deliberately led him on to attack the Administration and then dropped a prepared sandbag on his head, leaving him flustered and bleeding, while they all had a good hearty laugh.

The plot started when Democratic Floor Leader Robinson decided to release his pent-up enthusiasm for the New Deal in a speech commemorating its first anniversary. He deliberately couched portions of the speech so as to arouse one of two Republican Senators—the Indiana Robinson or Fess.

Also it was pre-arranged that when either Robinson or Fess responded, the prepared sandbag should be released by the Democratic sub-leader, Jim Byrnes.

SANDBAG

It worked almost perfectly. Arthur Robinson failed to bite at the bait, but as soon as the Democratic leader had concluded, out popped Fess of Ohio. He is somewhat too thin to be a cherub, but is otherwise angelic. He hit at the Administration with innocent enthusiasm.

His argument was sound in spots, but the Democrats were content to let him go his own way. Under their plan they asked him questions leading him on and on, until they finally drew from the Ohioan a statement that the New Deal had accomplished nothing whatever.

Byrnes jumped up and drew from his pocket a mass of clippings of Ohio newspapers.

From Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Toledo, Dayton, etc., he read praises of the New Deal policies. Fess had just been denouncing. They filled eleven columns of the Congressional Record, twice as much space as the Fess speech.

Byrnes had similar clippings from Indiana newspapers to use if the Indiana Robinson had attempted to say anything.

AMMUNITION

The Republican Senators do not know it yet, but the Democrats have a complete newspaper system of replying to Republican attacks. They not only keep the Ohio and Indiana papers clipped up to date, but also papers from other Republican states.

The large press clipping service instituted by Louis Howe does the work. They have enough clippings to fill the New Deal accomplishments to fill the Congressional Record every day.

RULE

The very day that Fess stuck out his head, Mr. Roosevelt outlined the new rule for criticizing the Administration. He said in effect that criticism was legitimate only when accompanied by a better alternative proposal.

Some of the liberal friends thought he went too far in laying down that rule. Several men close to him said privately that it was the only thing they objected to in his entire new speech. It may mean that all critics will have to carry lifelines to show their good faith, hereafter.

The truth seems to be that the Administration officials resent criticism only when it comes from the conservatives. All the criticism lately from the liberals has gone unnoticed and unanswered.

PRIORITY

General Johnson's letter writers are always getting him in trouble.

The latest inner commotion was caused by a smart NRAer who wrote a letter to the National Rifle Association. He stated in a very annoyed way that if the association did not stop using the NRA initials and an eagle on its stationery, General Johnson would get out an injunction against it.

In reply he received a letter from the National Rifle Association asserting that it had been incorporated in 1878. Since that time it had used the NRA initials on its stationery and also an eagle, although not a blue eagle.

In effect it stated: "If you do not sue us, we will not sue you."

STOCKS

Everyone knows the Democratic Senate leader would not have made that announcement about the uncertainty of stock market legislation without first getting approval from higher up.

Yet that does not mean the legislation is dead.

The announcement seems to have been a trial balloon. If the reaction shows sufficient demand for the legislation, it will be rushed through. If not, nature will be permitted to take her course.

The chances still favor passage of a strongly modified bill.

NOTES

Prof. Tugwell's explanations explain that he joined the Peek foreign trade scheme because he knew it would not be an outstanding success now, but that in six months or a year the time would be ripe for development of foreign trade.

The 5 to 4 majority decision in the New York milk case put the Supreme Court firmly on record for price-fixing in the New Deal.

Representative Bankhead doubled in brass in behalf of his brother's cotton curtailment bill. As co-author of the bill he appeared before himself as acting chairman of the rules committee and induced himself to report a rule for the bill.

The perfect man has been found. He is E. A. Goldenweiser, advisor of the Federal Reserve. When he took the stand in the stock market investigation, a liberal whispered: "There goes that conservative," and a Stock Exchange attorney simultaneously whispered: "There goes that liberal."

NEW YORK

AIR LINES

The administration's cards in the air mail contract cancellation row haven't all been laid on the table.

New York insiders have been justified in their early guess that earlier appropriations and greater efficiency for the Army air force will be one result of the squabble. It will be possible to make progress now where hitherto the Army has been up against a blank wall.

Incidentally the national defense motive enters to a greater degree than has yet been told.

New arrangements with the air lines are likely to feature closer cooperation between those people and the military authorities than was possible before.

PILOTS

There has been some feeling in Army circles that the commercial lines have taken over the Army's best pilots without so much as an if you please.

This was especially true from 1927 to '29 when the private lines still needed trained pilots and could offer better pay than the Army. Since then the competition has been so keen that commercial interests haven't had to draw on men with Army training unless they showed exceptional aptitude. But the rumor persists as a result of earlier "raids."

At present there are 7100 licensed transport pilots in the country and only 700 jobs available among established private companies. That makes the scramble a free-for-all.

MORTGAGES

Governor Lehman's plan to form a corporation to help out distressed holders of guaranteed mortgage certificates by lending them 25 per cent of the face value of their holdings wasn't so cordially received by New York banks as published reports made out. The banks that participate have to take a moderate risk with no special incentive in return. Those that do so will be chiefly mindful of public relations.

Experts say the proposition amounts to a great cry for very little wool. It is provided that loans shall be made only to those who can prove financial need. Most people in this category have already sold out at 50 cents or less on the dollar to shysters on the scent of easy pickings. It's possible that the total provable demand will amount to less than the ten million dollars' capital to be raised and that the RFC will not be called on at all.

LIQUOR

New York learns that FACA is at last taking definite steps to end liquor profiteering. All manufacturers have been called upon to submit cost details by March 10, with segregation of distribution and production expense. FACA's avowed object is to learn beyond mistake whether the spread between cost and retail prices is justified and then crack down on excessive margins of profit.

Local liquor interests expect an order to reduce prices after the facts are filed. Legitimate manufacturers are taking no chances on phony figures.

COMPETITION

Western Union and Postal Telegraph have a new kind of competition to worry about. International Business Machines has developed a short-wave teletype which is already practicable for direct transcription up to 50 miles. A much longer effective range is in prospect. Both telegraph and long-distance phone business will take it on the chin if current experiments prove successful.

IBA

Investment bankers privately have little hope that their nice new code will be acceptable to the government as a substitute for the Securities Act. They realize it's too full of glittering generalities. But a number of the most important will try to make the code so effective in practice that the more drastic provisions of the Securities Act will seem unnecessary even to the public.

One reason the IBA code is so vague on certain points is because of a vigorous inside row in the drafting committee. Old guard representatives were firmly opposed to the sweeping concessions originally planned and they had sufficient influence to force a compromise. The liberal element wants rigorous enforcement of code ethics to make up for vague phrasing in the document itself.

MOVIES

Independent movie interests are pulling hard for the appointment of Mrs. August Belmont to the movie code authority. Mrs. Belmont is rated unsuspicious to the blandishments of the Will Hays organization and the independents are elated at the thought of someone having nerve enough to tell Hays where to get off.

The anti-Hays faction also expects to make progress through the Motion Picture Research Council despite efforts of the large

BORROWED

Anti-Whitneyites who recall the ostracism visited on Henry Goldman Jr. because of his suggestion that the Exchange might be regulated to advantage get a kick out of comparing Goldman's ideas with Whitney's recently offered substitute for the Fletcher-Rayburn bill. There's no more than a casual similarity. Rebels comment that the least Whitney should do to make a graceful bow in Goldman's direction for the borrowed ideas.

EVERYBODY'S PROBLEM No. 2

WHY PACIFIC STATES SAVINGS Has So Much Foreclosed Real Estate

In Advertisement No. 1 Published Last Week We Explained:

(a) Why Pacific States Savings' certificates are selling at a discount; (b) And how by exchanging foreclosed property for certificates (as provided in the Building and Loan Emergency Act) we have been able to dispose of a large amount of foreclosed property on a basis which entailed virtually no loss to the institution; (c) But that the property so disposed of is but a small fraction of that on hand.

The National Situation

The unprecedented unemployment and loss of income which were attendant upon the four years of depression have had a disastrous effect upon hundreds of thousands of real estate owners throughout the nation.

In almost every community a large number of property owners have been unable or unwilling to keep up their loan payments. Foreclosures by the lenders have been numerous. Some of this property has been sold for what it would bring; much of it remains unsold and thus overhangs the market. These facts plus vacancies and decreasing rentals, forced down real estate prices to a level undreamed of in normal times.

The situation is nationwide. Its acuteness has been repeatedly recognized by the Federal Government, and such agencies as the Home Owners' Loan Corporation have been created in an endeavor to relieve the strain. This has proved of unquestioned benefit. But so huge is the problem that if all the billions of dollars voted for all forms of relief and recovery were concentrated upon it, they still would be hardly enough for its immediate solution.

All financial institutions which lend their funds on real estate have suffered from this disastrous condition in some degree. But Building and Loan, with virtually all its funds in long term realty loans, has been particularly hard hit.

In the main, building and loan associations chose their borrowers with care and appraised their real estate security soundly in accordance with normal values and conditions. But the unprecedented severity of the economic distress and its effect upon realty values could not be forecast. In addition to the thousands of borrowers, who through loss of income, have been unable to meet their loan payments, there have been many borrowers who, seeing their equities wiped out by the fall in realty values, have simply refused to make further payments on their loans.

The Vital Question

The building and loan associations see in default an ever-increasing number of the loans. And the vital question is, how can they best protect their certificate holders against a loss resulting from such defaults.

Which Course?

Faced with a mass of loans hopelessly in default, which course shall a Building and Loan Association pursue?

Shall the Association let the defaulting borrower continue to occupy the property without payment?

There is, perhaps, a natural temptation to treat a defaulted loan in this way. It is the "easy way." An association thus avoids showing an excessive amount of foreclosed property on its books. And interest on the defaulted loan can be

THE PURPOSE OF THIS ADVERTISEMENT

No one can say "Building and Loan is no concern of mine," for whether or not he has funds in an association, he still is affected by Building and Loan problems.

Half a million Californians, or almost one in ten of this State's population, have a total of nearly 400 million dollars invested in Building and Loan. These people's families and relatives, those to whom they owe money and with whom they do business include almost everyone. Whatever affects them affects all. It is therefore to everyone's interest to understand Building and Loan and its problems. To give that understanding is the purpose of this series of advertisements.

accounted to the apparent benefit of the association's earning statement.

But Pacific States Savings believes that to follow such a practice would be merely to delude itself. After all, a loan in hopeless default is merely "foreclosed real estate" by another name. To list the loan as active does not pay the imaginary interest which is being accrued. There is no real income produced. And the accrued interest, plus mounting taxes and insurance costs, simply makes the loan more top-heavy. Furthermore, property left in the hands of a defaulting borrower depreciates rapidly. For obviously a man who cannot meet his loan payments cannot keep up the property in good, salable condition.

For all of these reasons, Pacific States Savings believes that the "easy way" fails to protect the investment of certificate holders.

There remains, as the other alternative, Foreclosure.

Conserving the Security

Pacific States Savings does not want foreclosed property. It would much rather have a healthy loan producing regular interest, and being systematically reduced through principal payments.

Wherever there seems reasonable expectation that a defaulted loan can be restored to this basis . . . wherever a defaulting borrower appears able to overcome his difficulties . . . Pacific States Savings is lenient. For this course is in the interest of both the borrower and the institution's certificate holders.

But where a loan is hopelessly in default, Pacific States Savings, in justice to its certificate holders, cannot do otherwise than take over the property . . . pay the taxes and insurance . . . keep the property in repair . . . and find a paying tenant.

In a word, Pacific States Savings forecloses the property so as to keep it in a salable, productive condition until it can be disposed of without loss to the institution.

Our Responsibility

Pacific States Savings is not responsible for the conditions which have placed 40 million dollars of foreclosed property in its hands. But it is responsible to its certificate holders for the way this property is managed. Pacific States Savings' success may be measured by these facts:

(1) Last year our foreclosed property produced slightly more than enough income to cover insurance and taxes.

(2) In the past fourteen months, largely through exchange for our own certificates, we have disposed of more than 1,000 parcels of real estate with a book value of more than $3,800,000, at a profit of $1,403.

(3) In addition, we disposed of more than four million dollars in real estate through advantageous trades.

We would be less than frank were we not to state that only through long and arduous work can we dispose of all our foreclosed real estate, and thus resume our normal functions as a building and loan association.

But we are bending every effort to the task. And, meantime, through vigilant management, we are conserving the value of our foreclosed real estate for the eventual benefit of our certificate holders.

cases calling for discipline may nearly always be tracked back to qualification. "The problem of the unethical lawyer goes back to admission to the bar," he said,
"only a small fraction of one per cent of the attorneys ever indulge in any unethical practice."

Editor, Register.

Dear Sir:—

During these times of stress, when economy is the watchword, in private and governmental business, we question the soundness or judgment of the city council in spending $200 of the people's money for a special investigator to bring in information on liquor conditions.

It was common knowledge with one police officer, and probably many more in Santa Ana, that sales were being made to minors.
Of what use is the expenditure of $200 of the taxpayers' money for information that is of practically no use? The police could have obtained the same evidence —evidence that could be used in prosecution. The police department has a fund set aside for just such investigations.

Our chief of police should have known of the flagrant violations of the state liquor laws. If he didn't he's not fit to hold the office to which the people elected him.
If his men under him are not aware of conditions here then it is time men were put on the force who at least can use the powers
God gave them—such as sight and hearing.

All one had to do was locate himself at certain spots in the city and watch proceedings. It required no Sherlock Holmes, or Charlie Chan to ferret out the information that the city paid $200 to obtain.

Now that the $200 has been spent why not bring the investigator to appear as a witness in proceedings against these violators?

The idea of the police chief and other officials to call a conference to warn violators is silly and in-
ane. Why not call in all the bank robbers, Dillingers, Capones and others of like ilk and warn them they will be slapped on the wrist
if they do it again.

Prosecute now with the information obtained with the expenditure of $200. A CITIZEN.

March 7, 1934.

To the Editor of The Register:
In tonight's issue of your paper is an article entitled, "Reduction to be made in Service of Santa Ana P. O. Service." I am wondering whether the public fully understands all that is contained in that article.

Last Monday the President made a speech in which he strongly advocated shorter working hours and higher wages for workers. While the President was making that speech his most in-imate political advisor, Postmaster General Farley, issued an order furloughing, without pay, over 300,000 employees in the U.
S. Postal Service. This amounts to a reduction of pay, the very thing the President is trying so hard to prevent. But the most inconsistent act of all is in disallowing all substitute hire, either clerical or carrier. This means that over 30,000 substitute clerks and carriers throughout the United States are thrown out of all employment, and will have to take their chances with the C. W. A.
or other charitable organization.

In the Santa Ana Office there are approximately 60 regular employees who will suffer from the payless furlough, and 10 substitute employees who will have no regular employment. Of course the ultimate loser will be the local merchant, who must depend for his trade upon the buying power of the public.

It would seem that the most effective method the President could use for making the NRA effective would be for him to insist that it be observed by all Government Departments.

Make Four Times As Many Drunk Arrests As Year Ago

BIG INCREASE REVEALED IN POLICE REPORT

Arrests for drunkenness in Santa Ana during February increased more than four times over the same period a year ago and nearly three times over January of this year, it was shown today by figures in the regular monthly report issued by the police department.

There were 41 arrests for intoxication last month and only 10 during February of 1933. During the month of January, there were 15 incarcerations made on that charge by city police.

The total number of arrests in all classifications for February was 237.

Since there have been 12 arrests for drunkenness already this month, it is expected that the drunkenness total for March will approach the peak number of February.

Disturbing the peace arrests increased from 1 in January to three last month, while two classifications showed substantial decreases, violations of the California Vehicle Act with 49 as compared to 99 in January, and minor traffic violations in the city, with 117 arrests as compared to 177 in January. Drunken driving arrests dropped from five in January to three for February.

The complete list of February arrests is as follows: fighting, 2; battery, 1; burglary, 1; drunkenness, 41; petty theft, 4; disturbing the peace, 3; robbery, 3; vagrancy, 4; low vagrancy, 2; California Vehicle Act, 49; inebriate, 1; city ordinances, 117; breaking glass on sidewalk, 1; driving drunk, 3; bench warrant, 3; arrests for other cities, 3; and runaway boys, 4.

COUNTY RETAIL DRUGGISTS TO MEET APRIL 4

Called to discuss the formation of an Orange County Retail Druggists' association, a meeting of retail druggists in this county will be held in Santa Ana April 4 at a place to be designated later, it was announced today by Jess D. Hardy, Fullerton druggist.

All retail druggists in the county, with their wives, will be invited to attend the meeting, Hardy said, to consider the advisability of organizing drug store proprietors in Orange County into an association that could work for mutual benefit.

The featured speaker at the meeting will be Mrs. Edna Gleason, president of the California Pharmaceutical association and who also is a member of the California State Board of Pharmacy. Officers of the Long Beach, Riverside and San Bernardino retail drug associations will be present at the meeting, it was announced, as well as officials of the Southern California Retail Drug association.

The meeting will begin with a dinner to be served at 6:30 p. m.

NEW PASTOR OPENS BIBLE STUDY SERIES

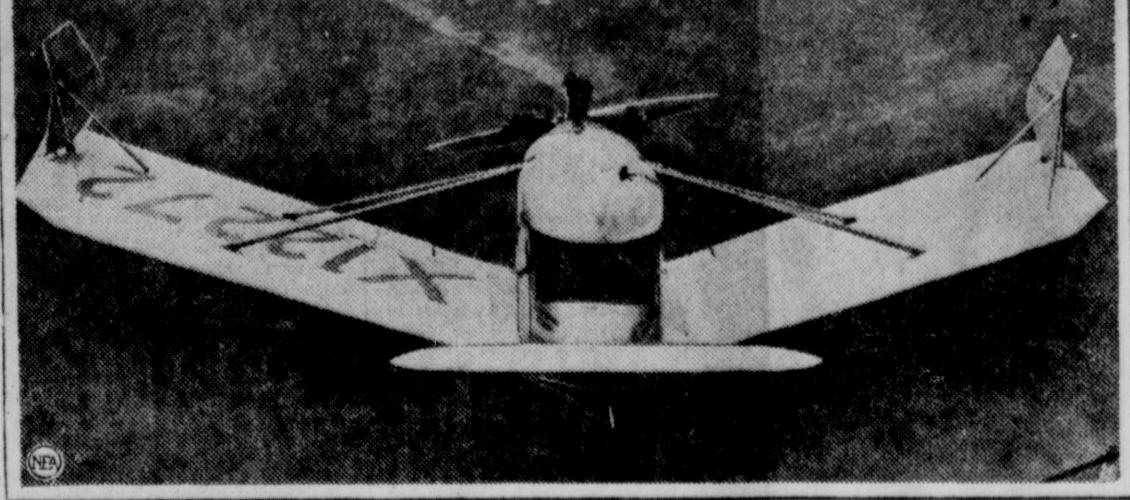

A talk on "Bible Study" was delivered at the mid-week service of the Southside Church of Christ last evening by Evangelist William S. Irvine, recently engaged minister of the church.

After emphasizing the importance of Bible study and how to best understand that wonderful book, he made a special appeal for daily Bible study by everyone. A plan was outlined whereby the New Testament will be covered in approximately nine months, by studying one chapter each day. Each Wednesday evening, the seven chapters read during the preceding seven days will be considered at the mid-week meeting of the church. The course begins today, with the first chapter of Matthew, each chapter to follow in order on each succeeding day.

The general public was urged to engage in this course of study.

Whatsit? Yes, That's What This Is—a Whatsit

It's a "Whatsit." If you're curious about this queer, tailless plane, shown at the Glendale, Calif., air terminal before its first public air test. It's the invention of Waldo Waterman, Santa Monica, Calif., veteran flyer, a 1100-pound two-passenger ship which a 100-horsepower, air-cooled motor drives at 100 miles an hour. The wings, which have a 30-foot spread, slope backward at a 25-degree angle, and the wing tips have stabilizers.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR HOLDS SALES TAX AS FAIR AND JUST METHOD; SAYS PROVED SUCCESS

Upholding the state sales tax as a fair and just method of necessary taxation, Frank Merriam, lieutenant governor of California addressed members of Santa Ana Kiwanis club yesterday afternoon in James' cafe.

The sales tax has proved successful, he said, and probably will raise around $90,000,000 a year to aid in balancing the state budget. He asked his listeners to think of what could take the place of the sales tax before voting against it. The speaker discussed problems of the state, confining his remarks mainly to items in the state budget which was adopted at the last legislature. He described the difficulties of the legislature because of the huge deficit which loomed.

California is one of two states in the nation in which schools have not been closed and education curtailed, he declared, giving credit to the sales tax in accomplishing this.

Electric utility companies, he said, have not been paying taxes in the past, they have been merely collecting taxes because they give but 31 cents worth of service to the consumer out of each dollar paid, paying the balance of nine cents in taxes. This condition will be changed in 1935, he said, so that utilities pay taxes just as individuals do.

The speaker was introduced by A. N. Zerman, who acted as program chairman of the day.

Cood Adams was introduced as a new member of the club by Dr. H. McVicker Smith.

President Theo. Winbinger announced a conference of delegates in this district to be held at the Anaheim club lodge at Idylwild over the coming weekend.

Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of schools, will be the speaker at the regular meeting next Wednesday. A demonstration on liquid air will be given by students from Santa Ana junior college. George Wells will be in charge of the program.

FOOTBALL GAME DEVELOPED BY YORBA LINDAN

Considerable interest is being shown by students in Yorba Linda in a game invented and recently improved by J. W. Brown, Yorba Linda agriculturist, which involves a thorough knowledge of football and a mental alertness that makes the game interesting.

First official explanation of the improved form of the game will be on Sunday night at the Epworth League Fellowship hour in the Methodist parsonage when a Bible adaptation will be arranged by the inventor. Prominent athletes are expected to be present, and the football coach of an Orange county high school will be invited as an observer and counselor.

The game is played on a field 10 feet long and marked in exact scale to regular grid requirements. Brown explained that the game now has been worked out so that any play that can be made on a football field can be duplicated in effect on the miniature field, and while the advances are made by brain work with practically no use of brawn, there is just as much excitement and possibility of clever counter-plays by opposing teams as in two great collegiate teams were clashing in real football.

For a number of months young people of the community have been cooperating with the inventor in playing on his field of oil-cloth to adjust the rules in perfect alignment with real football.

March 14, "Cost of Producing Avocados," Harold E. Wahlberg, farm adviser, Orange county.

March 16, "How Should We Breed?" L. D. Sanborn, assistant farm adviser, Los Angeles county.

The general topic of the program is "Facing Roosevelt's Second Year" and a trio of speakers will present three current phases of national problems. In addition to Dr. Leonard, the symposium speakers will include Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt, dean of the graduate school, to talk on "Democracy, Whither?" and Dr. A. Bruce Anthony, professor of economics, who will expound on "Air and Dictatorship."

Speed, Economy in Getting Well!

ANSWERS TO TODAY'S THREE GUESSES

James Russell Lowell was a famous AMERICAN POET. The VATICAN at Rome, containing several thousand rooms, is the world's largest residence. The Cape Verde archipelago consists of FOURTEEN ISLANDS.

STOP THAT COLD THE FIRST DAY!

A cold once rooted is a cold of danger! Trust to no makeshift methods. A cold, being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. A cold also calls for a COLD remedy and not a preparation good for a number of other things as well.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippiness feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute on any pretext.—Adv.

Mrs. L. J. Carden and Mrs. C. S. Kendall, hostesses this week to members of Ebell First Travel section, chose to entertain their guests in The Corner House, whose lovely atmosphere was fully appreciated by the travelers.

Luncheon was served at a special table laid for the entire section, membership and one guest, Mrs. H. R. Bristol, who recently arrived from the east to spend summer months in the L. L. Shaw home. Dainty luncheon appointments included flowers attractively arranged.

For the later program, section members sought the library where they gathered around a glowing fire to plan the social meeting which will conclude the year of club activities, and to enjoy the travel program provided by Miss Constance Cruickshank.

Miss Cruickshank had brought her motion picture projecting apparatus, and by its magic, took her audience on a "personally conducted" tour of Mexico, the one she enjoyed a few months ago. Her pictures were delightful, and her talk no less so, resulting in an impression of enjoyment and information for the section.

Present were Mesdames A. W. Ames, L. J. Carden, H. C. Davies, M. F. Heathman, C. S. Kendall, L. L. Shaw, E. B. Smith, George S. Smith, W. M. Smart, I. W. Van Cleave and the guest, Mrs. Bristol.

Chairman Gives Report
On Membership Drive

Reporting on the progress of American Legion Auxiliary's current membership drive, Mrs. Ina Mercer, chairman of such activity for the unit, stated today that present members, almost in entirety, have re-enrolled and will have their names on the list which is to be sealed in the cornerstone of the new Legion clubhouse. The cornerstone list will be closed to all names today.

"Increased interest in the work of the auxiliary is apparent among the women of Santa Ana," said Mrs. Mercer. "Membership teams are meeting ready response to their appeals. Many of our former members are coming back into the unit for 1934, and other eligible women who have never been connected with the organization are making application for membership."

Mrs. Mercer attributed the increased interest to the growing importance of the organization's service in civic and patriotic fields; to its work as a national force for the betterment of conditions for disabled veterans and their families; to its endeavors to promote national security through reasonable defensive preparations.

The program for the coming year calls for the continuance of these activities," Mrs. Mercer explained. "We hope that all wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of World War Veterans will come into the auxiliary and help us expand our work to meet greatly increased needs."

Bride's Grandmother
Entertains With Dinner

Opportunity to extend best wishes to a newly wedded couple, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson of Los Angeles, was afforded a family group taking part in a dinner party given by Mrs. Marietta Phillo, entertaining in her home, 1115 French street.

Mrs. Thompson is Mrs. Phillo's granddaughter, and was Miss Madalyn Phillo of this city preceding her marriage to the Los Angeles man on St. Valentine's day.

For the delicious dinner, guests were seated at a large table centered with a mixed bouquet of such spring blooms as carnations, sweet peas and lilies. Equally lovely flowers brightened other rooms of the home.

The group spent the evening socially. At intervals there were musical numbers, including vocal and piano solos by the Misses Marjorie and Edith McDonald.

Sharing the affair with the hostess, Mrs. Phillo and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neimeyer, Pasadena; Mrs. C. B. Abbott and son, Donald, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. P. Wilson, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. W. McDonald, and the Misses Edith and Marjorie McDonald, Laguna Beach.

Hillside Home Decked
With Wild Flowers
For Club Affair

The lovely hillside home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Marshall just above El Modena was rendezvous Tuesday night for Quill Pen club members, gathering as guests of Mrs. Marshall, to enjoy their first March program.

Exciting the admiration of everyone present was the use of wild flowers and blossoming eucalyptus branches throughout the home. The hillside yielded mariposa lilies in quantities, and these had been graciously arranged by the hostess in low bowls.

Mrs. Blanche Brown conducted the business and program interval. To the latter, Mrs. Marshall contributed the first number, a touching poem in triple rhyming, based on a newspaper account of a San Francisco episode at the holiday time. Mrs. Maude Goff added a short nature poem, "Hilltops," and completed her contribution with a cleverly plotted story, "Heaven Takes a Hand."

The general discussion included Gertrude Stein's opera, "Four Saints in Three Acts," and excerpts from the production.

In serving refreshments late in the evening, Mrs. Marshall asked Mrs. J. D. Campbell to pour coffee at a table charming with laces, ivory candles, and a bowl of mariposa lilies.

On March 20 the club will meet with Mrs. N. E. Wells and Miss Verna Wells, 924 Halladay street, and manuscripts will be due from Mrs. Frank W. Wells, Miss Verna Wells and Mrs. C. M. McClintock.

Present last night were the hostess, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Harry M. Smith, Miss Maude Goff, Mrs. N. E. Wells, Mrs. J. U. Vial, Mrs. Blanche Brown, Miss Verna Wells, Miss Lella Watson, Mrs. J. D. Campbell, Mrs. Marshall Harnois, Mrs. E. Neil Stanley and Mrs. Emmett Elliott.

When you buy one of these fine dressings you can be sure of this: it is made from quality ingredients, skillfully blended to produce a really delicious flavor... a flavor which the maker is proud to claim. That's the reason he puts his name on it.

And you can be sure that dressing sealed in glass, is thoroughly protected from contamination... germs and dirt in air, on hands... dangers to which bulk dressings are exposed.

In these modern days you don't have to take any risk. Always buy mayonnaise or salad dressing sealed in glass that's never opened till it reaches your kitchen!

This urge to careful buying is published with the hearty approval of a great number of grocers.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Wee Goldy watched the turtle for a while, and said, "He's getting sore. Why don't you let him have the fish you're holding out in front?"

"You've had a ride that's been just swell, while sitting on his funny shell, and now you should stop fooling him with such a crazy stunt."

"All right," the friendly man replied. "Here's where I end a dandy ride." In just about a minute more the fish was out of sight.

"I'll bet that tasted very good," said Dotty. "Gee, I wish I could go riding on the turtle's back. I'm really very light."

"Well, miss, I fear that what I've done," replied the man, "will spoil your fun. Now that the fish is eaten, my ol' turtle will not race."

"But go ahead and have your ride, if you're sure you'll be satisfied to ride real slowly." Then a smile spread on wee Dotty's face.

"You bet I will," she loudly roared, and very promptly hopped aboard. Just then a monstrous rabbit scampered up to Nature Nick.

"Let's have a race," the rabbit said, "I know that I'll come out ahead. Ol' Tim the turtle's bound to lose. He's never very quick."

"Oh, sure!" yelled Dotty. "Twice be fine. Across the ground I'll draw a line. That's where you both can start from. Then you'll race to yonder tree.

"While Dotty rides the turtle I will ride the rabbit. Me, oh my, this really ought to be an interesting sight to see."

And then the funny race began. The turtle walked. The rabbit ran. Wee Dotty felt so confident, a smile spread on his face.

The rabbit, though, saw greens nearby. To get at them, he jumped up high and flopped poor Dotty to the ground. The turtle won the race.

LAGUNA TO VOTE ON $25,000 RECREATION CENTER IN APRIL; DROP PLANS FOR $1000 BOND

LAGUNA BEACH, March 8.—Following a lengthy discussion of its merits, the city council last night voted unanimously to call a special election for April 9, the date of the general municipal election, to let the people vote on a proposition calling for the issuance of bonds in the sum of $25,000 for the purchase of 11.25 acres of land in Laguna canyon and the construction thereon of a municipal recreation center, including a children's playground, picnic grounds and park trails.

The council adjourned until Monday next when the first legal steps will be taken to call the election. At the April election the people will vote for three councilmen and on a separate ballot will decide whether or not the council shall be authorized to collect a levy of not to exceed 15 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation for "parks, music and advertising," in addition to the dollar tax fixed by law for cities of the sixth class.

A plan for the proposed playground and park was explained to the council by Henry S. MacKay, a noted architect making a short stay in the city, who drew it out of public interest. Frank D. Hever, "Cally" Holden and Kurt Ferrin spoke in favor of the project.

Reversing their action taken recently at a special meeting, in response to a popular demand, the city council killed the "fly-by-night" ordinance, which would have required transient merchants to put up a bond of $1000 to guarantee that they would stay in business more than eleven months or else pay a city license at the rate of $5 a day. The death sentence pronounced on the ordinance was as unanimous as was its passage to third reading February 24, with an emergency clause that would put into effect with publication tomorrow.

Various members of the council admitted that the only reason they had voted for the measure in the first place was because of the popular demand and not because they had given it due consideration. Since the special meeting they had been thinking it over. Several admitted, and found that the provisions of the law did not coincide with their ideas of a square deal for the property owner who has to pay taxes to the city.

An application by F. Irwin Heron, of Los Angeles, for a special permit from the city to operate the fishing pier brought out the information that Capt. J. M. Anderson, who owns the fishing barge concession at Hermosa Beach, is negotiating to buy the pier and that if the deal goes through he will spend several thousand dollars in repairs. Captain Anderson said he will bring the 2000-ton fishing barge Olympic to Laguna Beach waters and will have a fleet of deepsea fishing launches.

Councilman M. B. McMillan was authorized to purchase a new truck chassis for the use of the fire department at a cost of $700 to replace one of the old trucks. The firemen will purchase tanks and a pump to convert the chassis into a pump and hose wagon for use in small fires, it being the idea of the department, according to Chief P. J. Bushman, to do away entirely with the use of chemical fires.

The claim of Lydia K. Martin for $31.50 to pay bills rendered for medical service and medicines because of injuries sustained last October when she tripped over a heavy beam along the edge of the sidewalk in front of the post office, was referred to City Attorney Harvey.

Workers came to the camp to redecorate two suites in Field's own cottage. Pabito had not thought he would see the rooms, of which the servants talked with awe, but one day as he was helping one of the gardeners place a window box on a ledge outside the little girl's room Field stroled by. He paused, seeing Pabito.

"Have you seen the royal chambers?" he asked. There were times when Field was very democratic, though the mood was likely to vanish as quickly as it had come.

"Certainly not, sir," Pabito answered. Field liked the answer. It made him smile a little.

"Come in," he invited and Pabito followed him. The lavender, green and silver room which was Mrs. Field's seemed to Pabito suitable for an old lady. He wondered whether Field realized that it looked a retreat for a nun of a stern order atoning for too many sins of the bad world. Axe and chili were in the air and in the colors. He thought no woman could be gay in such a room.

"Like it?" Field questioned.

"I am too young to like lavender," Pabito answered. "I suppose," he added, "it is a very beautiful room."

Field had a moment's reaction to the earlier days. "It cost enough," he said. Then he went on. "What does it make you think of?"

"Oh! Philadelphia," Pabito answered.

"So you know Philadelphia?"

"You've been there?"

"No sir."

"Philadelphia," Field thought and hung the item upon a nail on the walls of his mind. His eyes narrowed a little.

They went into the little girl's room next. Here Pabito smiled.

"This brings your approval, eh?" Field questioned with a little irony.

Pabito nodded, liking the pastel shades and their artful blending.

"Any suggestions?" Field went on, amused at the idea of asking advice from a boy who were a pair of white cotton trousers, a bathing jersey and nothing else.

THE ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

BY KATHARINE
HAWLAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pabito, a handsome 17-year-old youth, who at the present time lived in a millionaire's home in Florida.

The son of a titled Englishman and a servant girl, Pabito knows nothing of his parents. When 3 years old he ran away from Angola, the old crone in whose care he was left, who beat and otherwise mistreated him. Since then he has lived with Norris Noyes, a mysterious old man who has been better days. Their home is a shack on a lonely island.

Field receives word from his estranged wife that she and her daughter, Estelle, 15, are on their way to the Florida home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER III

Three weeks later the servants gossiped in undertones that Norma Field was coming back to her husband after an absence of more than eight years. And she was bringing with her the child, a girl of 15 who, doubtless, remembered little of her home in America.

Workers came to the camp to redecorate two suites in Field's own cottage. Pabito had not thought he would see the rooms, of which the servants talked with awe, but one day as he was helping one of the gardeners place a window box on a ledge outside the little girl's room Field stroled by. He paused, seeing Pabito.

"Have you seen the royal chambers?" he asked. There were times when Field was very democratic, though the mood was likely to vanish as quickly as it had come.

He thought no woman could be gay in such a room.

CONDUCT FUNERAL OF W. WOMELSDORF

WINTERSBURG, March 8.—A full military funeral was held Wednesday morning at Sawtelle for William Womelsdorf, 38, whose death occurred March 2 at the government hospital in Sawtelle. The day previous he had submitted to an operation following an illness of several years duration.

The services at the chapel were conducted by the chaplain at the Soldiers' home. The Masonic lodge of Huntington Beach and Joseph Rodman post of American Legion conducted the services at the grave in the Sawtelle cemetery. Many friends attended the funeral from this section, where he had been a resident for 12 years. Pallbearers were veterans at Sawtelle.

Womelsdorf was a native of the state of Pennsylvania. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Womelsdorf, and one sister who resides in the east.

SCORE 781-2 POINTS

LAGUNA BEACH, March 8.—Scoring the highest number of match points yet recorded in duplicate contract tournament play in Laguna Beach, 781-2, Vernon F. Rush and Mr. Carl E. Benson led the players in the special match point tournament at the Community club Tuesday night. The stand of the first eight players is as follows: Vernon Rush, 215; Mr. Carl E. Benson, 210; Robert Boyd, 205; Frank D. Hever, 200; J. B. Andrews, 195; Mrs. Ralph A. Frost, 190; Mrs. Samuel C. Pierce, 185; Charles H. Jester, 180.

Womelsdorf was a native of the state of Pennsylvania. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Womelsdorf, and one sister who resides in the east.

The following standing committees were appointed by President Dan Mulholland: Finance, B. H. Latham, S. M. Clark, C. W. May, L. M. Armstrong; roads, P. W. Smith, Fred S. Warner, E. L. Holway, Henry Pate; parks and playgrounds, F. A. Neddermeyer, Mrs. P. T. Hogeland, Charles Hight, C. R. Robertson; publicity, Ed. Eason, George E. Higgins, S. M. Clark and David Kinney; membership, George E. Higgins, Roy Divil, Sallie May Clark, Mrs. P. T. Hogeland, Monroe Thurman; building, E. R. Bartlett, S. M. Clark, Leo Smith, A. T. Smith, Theo. Bowles, M. C. Hunter, Earl VonBorhorst, Virgil Westbrook; greeting, Mrs. P. T. Hogeland, P. W. Smith, Thomas Murphree, Jr., Earl Moore, John Riley, O. R. Robertson; legislation, Dan Acres, Fred S. Warner, J. C. Henderson.

The lobby was well filled with men, women representing local interests.

He was glad, he told her rather stiffly, that she liked it. "I thought," he explained, "that I would let you furnish the sitting room as you liked."

Her eyes brightened. "Oh," she said warmly, "I would like that, father. It will be fun!"

"The father" made him slip his arm through hers to press her arm to his side. He felt her hand creep into his and the gesture brought an almost forgotten sting to his eyes.

"Mother has told me much of you," he heard her say. "She said you were too busy here to come to see us but she always said I would like you."

That, Field noted mentally, would be Norma's way. To work in order to make him feel small and mean and in the wrong. He frowned a moment. Then he said a little wistfully, "Well I suppose I shall have to leave you now."

She admitted that she felt a little tired. Then suddenly she turned, raising her oval face, and he looked at her. The camp, Field thought, leaving her, had been turned into a convent, but he smiled, thinking it.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, and a host of other ailments. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, unattractive person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gum and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and don't take away enough of the decayed food to make a new bile juice.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decayed poison in your bowels. The only vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to you, run, taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to the directions. You can't go wrong.

Refuse "something just as good," for it may gripe, loosen teeth or cause flatulence. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. ©1933, C. M. Co.

PAUL REVERE'S RIDE WILL BE KREG FEATURE

A vivid dramatization of "the shot heard 'round the world" will be presented by George C. Johnson, Studebaker dealer in Santa Ana, tonight at 8:45 on KREG in the "Makers of History" series under the title of "Paul Revere's Ride."

The dramatic events leading up to the battle at Concord and Lexington and the subsequent happenings after the "one if by land and two if by sea" event will be re-enacted in detail with all sound effects, making the production, which features an all-star cast, most realistic.

Program officials said that this series of presentations are of interest to children as well as adults, because of the historical values offered by each authentic episode.

KREG NOTES

Tonight's bookkeeping broadcast on the Adult Education program, KREG at 8:30, will be on the subject of setting up books, journal, ledger and trial balance. The bookkeeping broadcasts by Charles L. Webster, Santa Ana City schools auditor and instructor of bookkeeping, are scheduled each Monday and Thursday on the local station.

Another program entitled "A Chuckle and a Laugh," is scheduled on KREG at 8:45 tonight, presenting a group of radio's foremost comedians and comedienne.

John Page, whose soft baritone voice is heard on C. B. S. broadcasts from KREG, 7:15 to 7:30 p. m., on Tuesday and Thursday, is in reality Dave Carlie, the announcer, and Dave Carlie, the announcer, is really John Page, the young announcer's given name. However, regardless of the mixup in names, the boy really sings and a great deal is expected of him, C. B. S. officials stated.

COMMITTEES SELECTED FOR EASTER BALL

ANAHEIM, March 8.—Completed committees were announced for the Easter Monday ball and the southern district meeting that will be held here on May 27, Tuesday night at the St. Patrick's Day dinner and meeting that the Young Ladies' Institute of St. Boniface Catholic church held at St. Boniface hall.

Miss Mayne Dillon, president, appointed the following committee chairmen for the dance: Mae LeVecke, decorations; Olga Deltzer, program; Laura Harland, refreshments and hostesses; all officers and chairmen of committees.

For the southern district meeting at which time the local club will be hostesses the following committees were named: general chairman, Beryl Kennedy; chairman for music, Agnes Stillwell; Nell Robertson, drill; Frances Backs, menu; Marie Robertson, invitation; Clara Birkhardt, meeting room.

Guests at the meeting were Ruth Houle, Institute deputy from Glendale; Father O'Connell and Mrs. Mary Kraemer of Fullerton, who is a new member. Decorations for the dinner were under the direction of Marie Van Oost and her committee.

FLORIAN MARTIN ON CBS TONIGHT

According to California Broadcasting System News Notes, Florian Martin, petite vocalist, who pleased so many listeners with her presentations of "Moods in Melody" on KREG, is now a C. B. S. staff artist and has signed a long term contract.

She will be heard tonight during the C. B. S. broadcast from KREG at 8:30 in a 15-minute presentation.

DINNER EVENT TONIGHT OPENS LEGION HOME PRESENT CONCERTS

60 by 90 feet, also will be used for dinner meetings. The flooring is new maple hardwood, laid so that the natural colors of the wood form designs that break what otherwise might be the monotony of such a large expanse of floor.

Special sound amplifying equipment has been installed back of the stage in a storeroom. This equipment, which operates through a large horn, will make it possible for everyone in the room, regardless of how many, to hear dance music or addresses. A new type of ceiling constructed of Nu-Wood, is designed to make the room acoustically perfect so that there are no echoes or reverberations of sound in the large hall. More than 800 can be seated at the collapsible tables at banquets. When not in use, the tables can be rolled under the stage in the same room.

Off of the lounging room, red Spanish tiled stairs lead to the upper floor where the main lodge room is located. This room is one of the most attractive in the building. The ceiling is V-shaped and the beams are stained natural wood colors, with colorful designs painted on them. An electric fan will insure good circulation of air.

On the upper floor also is a complete kitchen, although smaller than the one downstairs. This kitchen will be used in serving smaller gatherings and lunch, teas and refreshments. Rest rooms for men and women also are provided on the upper floor.

The large basement of the new building will be used by the Boy Scouts and by the post drum and bugle corps. Lockers are located in the basement. The Legion clubrooms will be situated in the basement, where storerooms also are available.

If you'd like something exclusive in a country estate, an acre of ground, a home, yes, a real fine home, it's right here for you. We don't try to lure it to you but will say that it was built without thought of cost—construction alone coming to over $11,000 about one year ago, a time when things were never cheaper; and that you may have building, and improvements and everything for far less than today. REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER

The Farm Journal looks upon the speech recently made by Ogden Mills at Topeka, Kansas, in the heart of the farm belt, as a bid for national Republican leadership. This undoubtedly it was. But it should be noted that it provoked mingled responses from the various sections of the Republican party. Pennsylvania and New England were not at all pleased with his references to the tariff; and, certainly, the insurgent Republicans of Wisconsin, the Northwest and the Middle West were not pleased with many other views expressed in that speech. Moreover, Alton B. Parker and John W. Davis, darlings of Wall Street, never were in the running against Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge; and Ogden Mills is par excellence a product of Wall Street. The Republican party may be bent upon suicide, but we rather doubt it.

In its comment, the Farm Journal mentions some of the other aspirants who have their lightning rods up with the hope that the lightning may hit upon them. A lightning rod, as we know, is a conductor of lightning, and never damages anything when the lightning hits. But here are some of the other possibilities: James W. Wadsworth and Bertrand Snell of New York, Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, Patrick J. Hurley of Oklahoma, Hanford MacNider of Iowa, General James G. Harbord of New York, Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, and Governor John G. Winant of New Hampshire.

No one would recognize this as a commanding lot. Most of them are unknown outside of their immediate neighborhood. Some of them have about as much chance as the fox in the fox hunt. And most of them are utterly out of tune with the prevailing sentiment of the country at the present time. Hanford MacNider and General Harbord are extreme militarists. Wadsworth, Snell, and Edge represent a repudiated leadership. Pat Hurley, the co-tillion leader of the last administration, is a cultured gentleman, but has little else to commend him. Senator Dickinson, the grandiloquent orator, harks back to the period when political leaders mouthed phrases, buried their right hands within the front folds of their frock coats, and hollered.

This leaves Senator Vandenberg, the leader of the "Young Turks" in the senate, a man of some ability, with a fair amount of vision, but little known to the country; Senator McNary, interested in the farmer, and probably not acceptable to the eastern wing of the party; and Governor Winant of New Hampshire, perhaps the most acceptable man in the party, with a fine background of culture, progressive in spirit, and thoroughly clean and honest. But Governor Winant's opposition to former Senator Moses of his state, whose influence in the party must be recognized, would, to say the least, have little enthusiasm for his rival in New Hampshire politics.

All together, this is not a formidable slate, as far as the personal individual equation is concerned. But this will amount to little if the tide should rise against President Roosevelt, because a number of these men are better known, or as well known as was Warren G. Harding before his nomination, and have had as good a record as Mr. Coolidge had. Either Mr. Roosevelt will be re-elected because of his popularity, or his opponent will be elected rather because the people are against Mr. Roosevelt, than they are favorable to his opponent. This was the secret of the large majority for Mr. Roosevelt over Mr. Hoover this last time.

CONCENTRATION OF POWER WITH A VENGEANCE

It is interesting to note that a great many Democrats who are holding official positions in the party organization, and who are also holding official positions under the government, are resigning from their party offices. These offices, of course, will be given to other "deserving" Democrats.

But it is with irony that they must send their resignations to Postmaster-General Farley, who himself is national chairman of the Democratic party, and holds the position of Postmaster-General under the administration. As we recall, he also is chairman of the Democratic party organization in New York.

If there is a general house-cleaning of these people holding double power, in harmony with the president's desires, it might be well to begin with Farley himself. Mr. Farley is undoubtedly shrewd and able. He is a loyal supporter of the president. As a loyal supporter of the president, he wants to aid in the impression that the administration makes upon all people. There are probably other people almost as able and at least quite shrewd, who are equally as loyal to the president, who could occupy any of those positions in his party.

When such a monopoly of positions goes to one man, it suggests a lack of trust and confidence in others, or else a terrible dearth of available timber. Patronage is an important part of party policy. But when the patronage is very largely placed in one man's hands, and he occupies the position in the president's cabinet where there are thousands of jobs directly to be given out, and then he is also chairman of the national committee, the chairman of the state committee of New York, it is a concentration with a vengeance, and in some cases we fear the emphasis should be placed on the vengeance.

FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION
MEETING SITUATION

In some sections it would appear that the Farm Credit administration is really coping adequately with agricultural distress. Mortgage foreclosures have come completely to an end in certain areas, so we are informed. This at once places the farmer in a better mood in those sections. He has more confidence in the future. He has a firmer grip upon himself and the situation.

As a total, $300,000,000 has been spent in loans to farmers. In the last eight months, so the report says, there were 500,000 applications. This involves more than two billion dollars. In one day, farm mortgage relief was issued to the extent of $8,250,000. Going back to last May, for the entire month there was only $3,000,000.

It is unfortunate indeed that Orange county has not shared to a larger degree in this farm benefit. The total amounts that have been loaned here to farmers, that is, the actual money that has gotten into the farmers' hands, is only $247,200. In the light of the values of citrus property, the character of Orange county, and in the face of the total amount already loaned in the nation, this is an extremely small amount.

The kind of assistance that is being rendered elsewhere is wonderful for the farmer, and in the long run it will cost the government but little. The farmer is given a long term of years in which to pay his principal, and his interest has been reduced to practically the amount which the government pays for its loans, less than four per cent. This is relief indeed.

THE BOLINAS BAY DEPOSITS

We hope that the ambergris found at Bolinas Bay is genuine and will find a good commercial market. It is used in the manufacture of perfume. The few plans reported of the people who have collected some of the stuff bear evidence of the happiness which a good sale to perfume manufacturers will bring. One man plans to take care of the mortgage on his home, another plans to marry, a boy will use the money to help his family.

They are all worthy expenditures of the money, bearing witness to the needs of people with modest desires to secure their homes, to marry, to establish a family, to care for a family. Ambergris is a strange substance to carry so heavy a weight of good.

According to all reports from Bolinas Bay the stuff is vile smelling but according to our copy of Webster's dictionary it is "fragrant." The people who have found it must be mistaken.

For What Use?

Christian Science Monitor

From Warsaw a report that eleven school children and a young peasant were killed examining a left-over World War shell found in a swamp. From Gorizia, Italy, a paragraph on three children seriously injured by a World War shell found on a river bank. From Bucharest, word that an officer was killed and nine soldiers injured when a hand grenade went off accidentally in the officer's hands. From Lique, Chile, a dispatch telling of injury to twenty men and destruction of a barge when gunpowder was ignited by a cigarette. Four reports like that in a day make news—in time of peace.

While sympathy goes out to those bereft and to those injured, the tragedy of this loss of human life stalks rather in its uselessness, absence of reason, and the absence of gain from the loss. During the four years of the World War, 8,533,312 men were killed in much the same way; 21,219,452 were injured. For what use? For what reason? For what gain?

An accident—so far as most of the world was concerned—at Sarajevo, and we had a war to make the world safe for democracy, a war to end war. The international arrangement set up as a result of that war has been sowing the seeds of another conflict since the day it was signed. Democracy has not flourished in the years between then and now. And youth still has to calculate the possibility of war's blasting its bodies and its careers. For what use? For what reason? For what gain?

A Crime Report

Oakland Tribune

While there is something cheering in the report that major crime in New York has declined for the second successive year the totals remain fearful. Last year the decline was 11.5 per cent from 1932 but there still were 46,442 major crimes. The year before there were 52,492 and, in 1931, there were 58,155 major crimes. New York had 674 murders in 1933, or about thirty times the number in London. There was a decrease, however, of 4.4 per cent.

Not encouraging to any save the criminals is the report that 26,768 of the eastern state's major crimes remain unsolved. For all kinds of crimes and misdemeanors, there were 702,429 arrests. Though it does "note progress" the showing is a sad one, revealing more crime in a single American State than is reported by many nations. It proves again that crime is the big issue before the country and, possibly, that the more determined campaigns of the law in recent months are bringing results. With the Government taking an active part in the war on kidnapers, it may be there will be requests for an extension of that program to include other criminals. It is a fight which must be organized down to the smallest unit and given public support which shall be continuing and vigilant.

Wings Over Russia

San Diego Union

While Russia and Japan are growling at each other, threatening a new war in the orient, a far more exciting peace-time drama has aroused the Russian and American populations which confront each other across the Bering Strait. The Russians are concerned over the fate of a fleeing colony, adrift on an ice floe. The Americans want to fly a couple of planes into Russian territory, not to fight, but to help. Twice in the past, the Russians of Siberia have extended aid to American aviators. Now Americans in Nome and Seward and St. Michael, and the officials of a commercial air line, want to return the favor.

Russian aviators rescued some of the party yesterday, but American fliers are still hoping for the dangerous call to help.

More Truth Than Poetry

A BARNYARD TRAGEDY

Caused by reading that cows are greatly benefited by mixing beer with their meals.

I discovered a piece in the paper,
Which brought me a promise of cheer;
A milch cow, it said,
Black or brindled or red,
Would prosper if reared upon beer.
So I purchased a barrel for bossy
To discover just what she would do.
If, instead of just bran,
She drank daily a can
Of the foaming delectable brew.

She lapped up the suds with real pleasure,
Giving thanks with a musical low;
She seemed eager for more,
So I went to the store
To buy her a hoghead or so.
When I noticed she grew slightly jingled
I abated a little her dose,
Whereupon I observed
She was somewhat unnerved
And became rather glum and morose.

That wasn't the reason however
For the terrible trouble I had.
She grew ugly and rough
On the terrible stuff,
And presently went to the bad.
And now, I regret to inform you,
This unfortunate creature of mine
Her existence must spend
To his unhappy end
In a home for inebriate kine.

Religion need not teach a man how to die if it has taught him how to live.

AMERICANISM: Feeling proud of our "chivalry" giving the women whatever they desire so they will brag on us.

Whether America goes to war will depend on the situation in the Orient and the number of idiots here at home. As a rule, "national pride" is the touchy pride of a few men who don't do any of the fighting.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WATCH BUSINESS REACTION TO NRA

The destiny of private capitalism and political liberty may well be at stake in the conferences on code revisions now being held in Washington. The business reaction to NRA, now that its program is opened up for reconsideration and the war-mood of silent acquiescence is ended, will give us some light on the turn national policy is likely to take.

That a larger measure of planning and control must be injected into the national enterprise seems to be past the point of argument. Both business leadership and the political opposition will, in my judgment, make a grave mistake if they undertake to fight for reversion to the pre-depression philosophy unmodified and unadjusted.

The question, in which the destiny of private capitalism and political liberty is definitely involved, is: How shall the minimum necessary planning and control be brought about—through socially responsible self-government in business and industry or through a direct and sweeping governmental control of economic enterprise? Let's not fool ourselves!

The rank and file of Americans believe as strongly as they ever believed in rugged individualism, but they have had their fill of ruthless individualism. They will not, in my judgment, take kindly to any political leadership that undertakes any unnecessary limitations on "rugged" individualism, but they will submit to drastic limitations on their own freedom of enterprise before they will hand themselves back into the power of a "ruthless" individualism of business, industry and finance.

In short, if business and industry come to bat with a willingness to face the new problem of this age with a socially responsible program that will prevent the ruthlessness of individualism, no political power on earth can get away with a program that smacks either of Fascism or Communism. I mean in the United States.

This is why it is more important to watch the reactions of business men than it is to watch the actions of Roosevelt or Johnson in these conferences.

Abstract harangues about Rooseveltian infringements on the rights of private enterprise and individual freedom will continue to fall on deaf ears until business and industry prove conclusively that they can bring as great social responsibility and greater economic efficiency than the government can bring to the planning and control of the national enterprise.

It boils down to this: What business, industry and finance, not to speak of the political opposition, must bring to consideration of the NRA is not attack but an alternative, if a sounder alternative is available.

JUST ANOTHER CHILD

"If only he would try. The teachers assure me that he would be at the head of his class if he would just put his mind on his work. He simply will not concentrate."

"Is he troublesome at school?"
"Not a bit. He is a good child but he makes poor grades and the preparatory school will not take him unless he gets over 80 at least. With all of us driving him, teachers and tutors and father and mother, he does well if he gets 65. We can't seem to rouse any ambition in him."

"What does he say about it?"
"He says he does the best he can. But we know he doesn't. He is intelligent and healthy and could if he would. When we say anything to him he asks us what we want him to do. He can't get good marks and there we are."

All the time the boy was being urged to surpass himself he was doing his best. He was intelligent but he had not the kind of intelligence that masters a preparatory course and does well in college. He could read and write and he understood simple arithmetic but beyond that things were rather blurred. But give him a tool and some material and he would show you what to do with them. He excelled in manual work.

"But he could not want him to be a manual worker. All our family went to college. It isn't sensible to believe that this boy cannot do what every member of his immediate family has done. He must pass."

But he could not pass. Now what? Is the child going to be allowed to do what he can do well and feel himself a success or is he to be pressed into trying to do what he can never accomplish and know himself a failure? Is he to grow up enjoying the life at home with his family or is he to go out a disappointed bewildered boy to seek his welcome elsewhere?

A child has certain fundamental rights and the first one is to be himself. That does not mean he is to become a spoiled and selfish child. We want to allow him to be his real self. If he happened to be born with a genius for research, or for some highly skilled profession, very good. Let him develop his power, and
